New York City (A civil rights clearing house)

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights". In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker", February 11, 1957, page 1, column 2, reported that Bayard Rustin, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA), held in New York City, on February 9-12, 1957.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 25, 1963, that during a meeting of the National Board, CPUSA, on that date, Benjamin J. Davis remarked that, "Rustin calls me constantly--openly."

Another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 19, 20, 1964, that Bayard Rustin contacted Benjamin J. Davis on those dates and sought his advice as to how he could escape from a speaking engagement to which he was committed. On the latter contact, Davis told Rustin that he was working on his request and had contacted friends who had contacts with the group to which Rustin was to speak.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on January 21, 1964, that as of that date, Benjamin J. Davis was National Secretary of the CPUSA.

"The New York Times", August 24, 1964, page 27, column 4, reports that Benjamin J. Davis, National Secretary, CPUSA, died in New York City on the night of August 22, 1964.

ReNY airtel and LHM, dated 5/3/66, concerning RUSTIN's plans to travel to Israel.

In an effort to ascertain more specific information as to RUSTIN's mode of travel, SA [redacted] contacted El Al Israel Airlines and Trans World Airlines on 5/16/66; however, these contacts were to no avail in regard to his plans. It was determined that these are the only airlines which fly direct to Israel, but that there are numerous other connecting airlines with service to Israel.

It was learned from [redacted] at El Al Israel Airlines, that RUSTIN does not have a reservation for any period during June, 1966. He explained, however, that he could be a part of a tour, which would prevent his name from appearing on a specific flight. This was found to be the case with TWA as well.

The NYO is remaining alert to developments in this matter, and the Bureau will be advised immediately in the event information is received as to RUSTIN's plans.

ADMINISTRATIVE:

Subsequent to referenced report, there has been no information indicating contact between BAYARD RUSTIN and the CP, or between BAYARD RUSTIN and Communist officials. However, as in the past, RUSTIN and STANLEY DAVID LEVISON, secret member of the CP, have been in contact. Although the contacts have been fewer since last report, they do continue infrequently. They have always taken place when others were present. These contacts have always included MARTIN LUTHER KING, President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, SCLC, CLARENCE JONES or HARRY WACHTEL and they have always concerned KING's affairs, not business between LEVISON and RUSTIN. The last known contact between RUSTIN and LEVISON took place on Sunday, June 12, 1966, and it concerned the Mississippi March. In addition to these two men, KING, CLARENCE JONES and WALTER FAUNTROY, the SCLC Director

However, the foregoing is not included in the details of this report, since the contacts were not on the business of RUSTIN or LEVISON but instead, on the business of KING. It is felt therefore, that such information should more appropriately be reported in the CIRM or KING cases.

The pretext interview which determined the employment of RUSTIN was made by SA [REDACTED]. It was a telephone call on June 15, 1966, to the office of the A. Philip Randolph Institute. The receptionist was told that RUSTIN's services were desired in connection with the march being carried on in Mississippi to enlist Negroes to vote.

With regard to the information derived from the Passport Office, US State Department, it was furnished by [REDACTED]. The NYO subsequently received the information by routing slip dated 4/28/66.

THE WATTS "MANIFESTO" & THE McCONE REPORT

BAYARD RUSTIN

THE RIOTS in the Watts section of Los Angeles last August continued for six days, during which 34 persons were killed, 1,032 were injured, and some 3,952 were arrested. Viewed by many of the rioters themselves as their "manifesto," the uprising of the Watts Negroes brought out in the open; as no other aspect of the Negro protest has done, the despair and hatred that continue to brew in the Northern ghettos despite the civil-rights legislation of recent years and the advent of "the war on poverty." With national attention focused on Los Angeles, Governor Edward P. Brown created a commission of prominent local citizens, headed by John A. McCone, to investigate the causes of the riots and to prescribe remedies against any such outbreaks in the future. Just as the violent confrontation on the burning streets of Watts told us much about the underlying realities of race and class relations in America—summed up best, perhaps, by the words of Los Angeles Police Chief William Parker, "We're on top and they're on the bottom"—so does the McCone Report, published under the title Violence in the City—An End or a Beginning?, tell us much about the response of our political and economic institutions to the Watts "manifesto."

Like the much-discussed Moynihan Report, the McCone Report is a bold departure from the standard government paper on social problems. It goes beyond the mere recital of statistics to discuss, somewhat sympathetically, the real problems of the Watts community—problems like unemployment, inadequate schools, dilapidated housing—and it seems at first glance to be leading toward constructive programs. It never reaches them, however, for, again like the Moynihan Report, it is ambivalent about the basic reforms that are needed to solve these problems and therefore shies away from spelling them out too explicitly. Thus, while it calls for the creation of 50,000 new jobs to compensate for the "spiral of failure" that it finds among the Watts Negroes, the McCone Report does not tell us how these jobs are to be created or obtained and instead recommends existing programs which have already shown themselves to be inadequate. The Moynihan Report, similarly, by emphasizing the breakdown of the Negro family, also steers clear of confronting the thorny issues of Negro unemployment as such.

By appearing to provide new viewpoints and fresh initiatives while at the same time repeating, if in more sophisticated and compassionate terms, the standard white stereotypes and shibboleths about Negroes, the two reports have become controversial on both sides of the Negro question. On the one hand, civil-rights leaders can point to the recognition in these reports of the need for jobs and training, and for other economic and social programs to aid the Negro family, while conservatives can find confirmed in their pages the Negro penchant for violence, the excessive agitation against law and order by the civil-rights movement, or the high rates of crime and illegitimacy in the Negro community; on the other hand, both sides have criticized the reports for feeding ammunition to the opposition. Unfortunately, but inevitably, the emphasis on Negro behavior in both reports has stirred up an abstract debate over the interpretation of data rather than suggesting programs for dealing with the existing and very concrete situation in which American Negroes find themselves. For example, neither report is concerned about segregation and both tacitly assume that the Civil Rights Acts of 1964 and 1965 are already destroying this system. In the case of the McCone Report, this leaves the writers free to discuss the problems of Negro housing, education, and unemployment in great detail without attacking the conditions of de facto segregation that underly them.

THE ERRORS and misconceptions of the McCone Report are particularly revealing because it purports to deal with the realities of the Watts riots rather than with the abstractions of the Negro family. The first distortion of these realities occurs in the opening chapter—"The Crisis: An Overview"—where, after briefly discussing the looting and beatings, the writers conclude that "The rioters seem to have been caught up in an insensate rage of destruction." Such an image may reflect the fear of the white community that Watts had run amok during six days in August, but it does not accurately describe the major motive and mood of the riots, as subsequent data in the report itself indicate. While it is true that Negroes in the past have often turned the violence inflicted on them by society in upon themselves—"insensate rage" would perhaps have been an appropriate phrase for the third day of the 1964 Harlem riots—the whole point of the outbreak in Watts was that it marked the first major rebellion of Negroes against their own masochism and was carried on with the express purpose of asserting that they would no longer quietly submit to the deprivation of slum life.

This message came home to me over and over again when I talked with the young people in Watts during and after the riots, as it will have come home to those who watched the various television documentaries in which the Negroes of the community were permitted to speak for themselves. At a street-corner meeting in Watts when the riots were over, an unemployed youth of about twenty said to me, "We won." I asked him: "How have you won? Homes have been destroyed, Negroes are lying dead in the streets, the stores from which you buy food and clothes are destroyed, and people are bringing you relief." His reply was significant: "We won because we made the whole world pay attention to us. The police chief never came here before; the mayor always stayed uptown. We made them come." Clearly it was no accident that the riots proceeded along an almost direct path to City Hall.

Nor was the violence along the way random and "insensate." Wherever a store-owner identified himself as a "poor working Negro trying to make a business" or as a "Blood Brother," the mob passed the store by. It even spared a few white businesses that allowed credit or time purchases, and it made a point of looting and destroying stores that were notorious for their high prices and hostile manners. The McCone Report itself observes that "the rioters concentrated on food markets, liquor stores, clothing stores, department stores, and pawn shops." The authors "note with interest that no residences were deliberately burned, that damage to schools, libraries, public buildings was minimal and that certain types of business establishments, notably service stations and automobile dealers, were for the most part unharmed." It is also worth noting that the rioters were much more inclined to destroy the stock of the liquor stores they broke into than to steal it, and that according to the McCone Report, "there is no evidence that the rioters made any attempt to steal narcotics from pharmacies . . . which were looted and burned."

This is hardly a description of a Negro community that has run amok. The largest number of arrests were for looting—not for arson or shooting. Most of the people involved were not habitual thieves; they were members of a deprived group who seized a chance to possess things that all the dinning affluence of Los Angeles had never given them. There were innumerable touching examples of this behavior. One married couple in their sixties was seen carrying a couch to their home, and when its weight became too much for them, they sat down and rested on it until they could pick it up again. Langston Hughes tells of another woman who was dragging a sofa through the streets and who stopped at each intersection and waited for the traffic light to turn green. A third woman went out with her children to get a kitchen set, and after bringing it home, she discovered they needed one more chair in order to feed the whole family together; they went back to get the chair and all of them were arrested.

IF THE McCone Report misses the point of the Watts riots, it shows even less understanding of their causes. To place these in perspective, the authors begin by reviewing the various outbursts in the Negro ghettos since the summer of 1964 and quickly come up with the following explanations: "Not enough jobs to go around, and within this scarcity not enough by a wide margin of a character which the untrained Negro could fill. . . . Not enough schooling to meet the special needs of the disadvantaged Negro child whose environment from infancy onward places him under a serious handicap." Finally, "a resentment, even hatred, of the police as a symbol of authority."

For the members of the special commission these are the fundamental causes of the current Negro plight and protest, which are glibly summed up in the ensuing paragraph by the statement that "Many Negroes moved to the city in the last generation and are totally unprepared to meet the conditions of city life." I shall be discussing these "causes" in detail as we go along, but it should be noted here that the burden of responsibility has already been placed on these hapless migrants to the cities. There is not one word about the conditions, economic as well as social, that have pushed Negroes out of the rural areas; nor is there one word about whether the cities have been willing and able to meet the demand for jobs, adequate housing, proper schools. After all, one could as well say that it is the cities which have been "totally unprepared" to meet the "conditions of Negro life," but the moralistic bias of the McCone Report, involving as it does an emphasis on the decisions of men rather than the pressure of social forces, continually operates in the other direction.

The same failure of awareness is evident in the report's description of the Los Angeles situation (the Negro areas of Los Angeles "are not urban gems, neither are they slums," the Negro population "has exploded," etc.). The authors do concede that the Los Angeles transportation system is the "least adequate of any major city," but even here they fail to draw the full consequences of their findings. Good, cheap transportation is essential to a segregated working-class population in a big city. In Los Angeles a domestic worker, for example, must spend about $1.50 and 1½ to 2 hours to get to a job that pays $6 or $7 a day. This both discourages efforts to find work and exacerbates the feeling of isolation.

A neighborhood such as Watts may seem beautiful when compared to much of Harlem (which, in turn, is an improvement over the Negro section of Mobile, Alabama)—but it is still a ghetto. The housing is run-down, public services are inferior, the listless penned-in atmosphere of segregation is oppressive. Absentee landlords are the rule, and most of the businesses are owned by whites: neglect and exploitation reign by day, and at night, as one Watts Negro tersely put it, "There's just the cops and us."

The McCone Report, significantly, also ignores the political atmosphere of Los Angeles. It refers, for example, to the repeal in 1964 of the Rumford Act—the California fair-housing law—in these words: "In addition, many Negroes here felt and were encouraged to feel that they had been affronted by the passage of Proposition 14." Affronted, indeed! The largest state in the Union, by a three-to-one majority, abolishes one of its own laws against discrimination and Negroes are described as regarding this as they might the failure of a friend to keep an engagement. What they did feel—and without any need of encouragement—was that while the rest of the North was passing civil-rights laws and improving opportunities for Negroes, their own state and city were rushing to reinforce the barriers against them.

The McCone Report goes on to mention two other "aggravating events in the twelve months prior to the riot." One was the failure of the poverty program to "live up to [its] press notices," combined with reports of "controversy and bickering" in Los Angeles over administering the program. The second "aggravating event" is summed up by the report in these words:

Throughout the nation unpunished violence and disobedience to law were widely reported, and almost daily there were exhortations here and elsewhere, to take the most extreme and illegal remedies to right a wide variety of wrongs, real and supposed.

It would be hard to frame a more insidiously equivocal statement of the Negro grievance concerning law enforcement during a period that included the release of the suspects in the murder of the three civil-rights workers in Mississippi, the failure to obtain convictions against the suspected murderers of Medgar Evers and Mrs. Violet Liuzzo, the Gilligan incident in New York, the murder of Reverend James Reeb, and the police violence in Selma, Alabama—to mention only a few of the more notorious cases. And surely it would have been more to the point to mention that throughout the nation Negro demonstrations have almost invariably been non-violent, and that the major influence on the Negro community of the civil-rights movement has been the strategy of discipline and dignity. Obsessed by the few prophets of violent resistance, the McCone Commission ignores the fact that never before has an American group sent so many people to jail or been so severely punished for trying to uphold the law of the land.

IT IS NOT stretching things too far to find a connection between these matters and the treatment of the controversy concerning the role of the Los Angeles police. The report goes into this question at great length, finally giving no credence to the charge that the police may have contributed to the spread of the riots through the use of excessive force. Yet this conclusion is arrived at not from the point of view of the Watts Negroes, but from that of the city officials and the police. Thus, the report informs us, in judicial hearings that were held on 32 of the 35 deaths which occurred, 26 were ruled justifiable homicides, but the report—which includes such details as the precise time Mayor Yorty called Police Chief Parker and when exactly the National Guard was summoned—never tells us what a "justifiable homicide" is considered to be. It tells us that "of the 35 killed, one was a fireman, one was a deputy sheriff, and one was a Long Beach policeman," but it does not tell us how many Negroes were killed or injured by police or National Guardsmen. (Harry Fleischman of the American Jewish Committee reports that the fireman was killed by a falling wall; the deputy sheriff, by another sheriff's bullet; and the policeman, by another policeman's bullet.) We learn that of the 1,032 people reported injured, 90 were police officers, 36 were firemen, 10 were National Guardsmen, 23 were from government agencies. To find out that about 85 per cent of the injured were Negroes, we have to do our own arithmetic. The report contains no information as to how many of these were victims of police force, but one can surmise from the general pattern of the riots that few could have been victims of Negro violence.

The report gives credence to Chief Parker's assertion that the rioters were the "criminal element in Watts" yet informs us that of the 3,438 adults arrested, 1,164 had only minor criminal records and 1,232 had never been arrested before. Moreover, such statistics are always misleading. Most Negroes, at one time or another, have been picked up and placed in jail. I myself have been arrested twice in Harlem on charges that had no basis in fact: once for trying to stop a police officer from arresting the wrong man; the second time for asking an officer who was throwing several young men into a paddy wagon what they had done. Both times I was charged with interfering with an arrest and kept overnight in jail until the judge recognized me and dismissed the charges. Most Negroes are not fortunate enough to be recognized by judges.

Having accepted Chief Parker's view of the riots, the report goes on to absolve him of the charge of discrimination: "Chief Parker's statements to us and collateral evidence, such as his fairness to Negro officers, are inconsistent with his having such an attitude [deep hatred of Negroes]. Despite the depth of feeling against Chief Parker expressed to us by so many witnesses, he is recognized even by many of his vocal critics as a capable Chief who directs an efficient police force and serves well this entire community."

I am not going to stress the usual argument that the police habitually mistreat Negroes. Every Negro knows this. There is scarcely any black man, woman, or child in the land who at some point or other has not been mistreated by a policeman. (A young man in Watts said, "The riots will continue because I, as a Negro, am immediately considered to be a criminal by the police and, if I have a pretty woman with me, she is a tramp even if she is my wife or mother.") Police Chief Parker, however, goes beyond the usual bounds. He does not recognize that he is prejudiced, and being both naïve and zealous about law and order, he is given to a dangerous fanaticism. His reference to the Negro rioters as "monkeys," and his "top . . . and bottom" description of the riots, speak for themselves, and they could only have further enraged and encouraged the rioters. His insistence on dealing with the outbreak in Watts as though it were the random work of a "criminal element" threatened to lead the community, as Martin Luther King remarked after the meeting he and I had with Chief Parker, "into potential holocaust." Though Dr. King and I have had considerable experience in talking with public officials who do not understand the Negro community, our discussions with Chief Parker and Mayor Samuel Yorty left us completely nonplussed. They both denied, for example, that there was any prejudice in Los Angeles. When we pointed to the very heavy vote in the city for Proposition 14, they replied, "That's no indication of prejudice. That's personal choice." When I asked Chief Parker about his choice of language, he implied that this was the only language Negroes understood.

The impression of "blind intransigence and ignorance of the social forces involved" which Dr. King carried away from our meeting with Chief Parker is borne out by other indications. The cast of his political beliefs, for example, was evidenced during his appearance last May on the Manion Forum, one of the leading platforms of the radical right, in which (according to newspaper reports) he offered his "considered opinion that America today is in reality more than half pagan" and that "we have moved our form of government to a socialist form of government." Such opinions have a good deal of currency today within the Los Angeles police department. About a month before the riots, a leaflet describing Dr. King as a liar and a Communist was posted on the bulletin board of a Los Angeles police station, and only after the concerted efforts of various Negro organizations was this scurrilous pamphlet removed.

CERTAINLY these were "aggravating factors" that the McCone Report should properly have mentioned. But what is more important to understand is that even if every policeman in every black ghetto behaved like an angel and were trained in the most progressive of police academies, the conflict would still exist. This is so because the ghetto is a place where Negroes do not want to be and are fighting to get out of. When someone with a billy club and a gun tells you to behave yourself amid these terrible circumstances, he becomes a zoo keeper, demanding of you, as one of "these monkeys" (to use Chief Parker's phrase), that you accept abhorrent conditions. He is brutalizing you by insisting that you tolerate what you cannot, and ought not, tolerate.

In its blithe ignorance of such feelings, the McCone Report offers as one of its principal suggestions that speakers be sent to Negro schools to teach the students that the police are their friends and that their interests are best served by respect for law and order. Such public-relations gimmicks, of course, are futile—it is hardly a lack of contact with the police that creates the problem. Nor, as I have suggested, is it only a matter of prejudice. The fact is that when Negroes are deprived of work, they resort to selling numbers, women, or dope to earn a living; they must gamble and work in poolrooms. And when the policeman upholds the law, he is depriving them of their livelihood. A clever criminal in the Negro ghettos is not unlike a clever "operator" in the white business world, and so long as Negroes are denied legitimate opportunities, no exhortations to obey the rules of the society and to regard the police as friends will have any effect.

This is not to say that relations between the police and the Negroes of Watts could not be improved. Mayor Yorty and Police Chief Parker might have headed off a full-scale riot had they refrained from denouncing the Negro leaders and agreed to meet with them early on. Over and over again—to repeat the point with which we began—the rioters claimed that violence was the only way they could get these officials to listen to them. The McCone Commission, however, rejects the proposal for an independent police review board and instead recommends that the post of Inspector General be established—under the authority of the Chief of Police—to handle grievances.

THE CONDITIONS of Negro life in Watts are not, of course, ignored by the McCone Report. Their basic structure is outlined in a section entitled "Dull, Devastating Spiral of Failure." Here we find that the Negro's "homelife destroys incentive"; that he lacks "experience with words and ideas"; that he is "unready and unprepared" in school; and that, "unprepared and unready," he "slips into the ranks of the unemployed" (my italics).

I would say, is shoved. It is time that we began to understand this "dull, devastating spiral of failure" and that we stopped attributing it to this or that characteristic of Negro life. In 1940, Edward Wight Bakke described the effects of unemployment on family structure in terms of the following model: The jobless man no longer provides, credit runs out, the woman is forced to take a job; if relief then becomes necessary, the woman is regarded even more as the center of the family; the man is dependent on her, the children are bewildered, and the stability of the family is threatened and often shattered. Bakke's research dealt strictly with white families. The fact that Negro social scientists like E. Franklin Frazier and Kenneth Clark have shown that this pattern is typical among the Negro poor does not mean, then, that it stems from some inherent Negro trait or is the ineluctable product of Negro social history. If Negroes suffer more than others from the problems of family instability today, it is not because they are Negro but because they are so disproportionately unemployed, underemployed, and ill-paid.

Anyone looking for historical patterns would do well to consider the labor market for Negroes since the Emancipation. He will find that Negro men have consistently been denied the opportunity to enter the labor force in anything like proportionate numbers, have been concentrated in the unskilled and marginal labor and service occupations, and have generally required wartime emergencies to make any advances in employment, job quality, and security. Such advances are then largely wiped out when the economy slumps again.

In 1948, for example, the rates of Negro and white unemployment were roughly equal. During the next decade, however, Negro unemployment was consistently double that of whites, and among Negro teenagers it remained at the disastrously high figure which prevailed for the entire population during the Depression. It is true that the nation's improved economic performance in recent years has reduced the percentage of jobless Negroes from 12.6 per cent, which it reached in 1958 (12.5 per cent in 1961) to roughly 8.1 per cent today. Despite this progress, the rate of Negro unemployment continues to be twice as high as white (8.13 per cent as against 4.2 per cent). In other words, job discrimination remains constant. These statistics, moreover, conceal the persistence of Negro youth unemployment: in 1961, 24.7 per cent of those Negro teenagers not in school were out of work and it is estimated that in 1966 this incredible rate will only decline to 23.2 per cent. What this figure tells us is that the rise in Negro employment has largely resulted from the calling of men with previous experience back to work. This is an ominous trend, for it is estimated that in the coming year, 20 per cent of the new entrants into the labor force will be Negro (almost twice as high as the Negro percentage of the population). Approximately half of these young Negroes will not have the equivalent of a high-school education and they will be competing in an economy in which the demand for skill and training is increasing sharply.

Thus there is bound to be a further deterioration of the Negro's economic—and hence social—position, despite the important political victories being achieved by the civil-rights movement. For many young Negroes, who are learning that economic servitude can be as effective an instrument of discrimination as racist laws, the new "freedom" has already become a bitter thing indeed. No wonder that the men of Watts were incensed by reports that the poverty program was being obstructed in Los Angeles by administrative wrangling. (As I write this, the New York Times reports that political rivalries and ambitions have now virtually paralyzed the program in that area.)

HOW DOES THE McCone Report propose to halt this "dull, devastating spiral of failure"? First, through education—"our fundamental resource." The commission's analysis begins with a comparison of class size in white and Negro areas (the latter are referred to throughout as "disadvantaged areas" and Negro schools, as "disadvantaged schools"). It immediately notes that classes in the disadvantaged schools are slightly smaller; on the other hand, the more experienced teachers are likely to be found in the non-disadvantaged areas, and there is tremendous overcrowding in the disadvantaged schools because of double sessions. The buildings in the "disadvantaged areas are in better repair"; on the other hand, there are "cafeterias in the advantaged schools" but not in the disadvantaged schools, which also have no libraries. This random balance sheet of "resources" shows no sense of priorities; moreover, despite the alarming deficiencies it uncovers in the "disadvantaged schools," the McCone Report, in consistent fashion, places its emphasis on the Negro child's "deficiency in environmental experiences" and on "his homelife [which] all too often fails to give him incentive. . . ."

The two major recommendations of the commission in this area will hardly serve to correct the imbalances revealed. The first is that elementary and junior high schools in the "disadvantaged areas" which have achievement levels substantially below the city average should be designated "Emergency Schools." In each of these schools an emergency literacy program is to be established with a maximum of 22 students in each class and an enlarged and supportive corps of teachers. The second recommendation is to establish a permanent pre-school program to help prepare three- and four-year-old children to read and write.

W. T. Bassett, executive secretary of the Los Angeles AFL-CIO, has criticized the report for its failure to deal with education and training for adolescents and adults who are no longer in school. Another glaring omission is of a specific plan to decrease school segregation. While most of us now agree that the major goal of American education must be that of quality integrated schools, we cannot, as even the report suggests, achieve the quality without at the same time moving toward integration. The stated goal of the McCone Commission, however, is to "reverse the trend of de facto segregation" by improving the quality of the Negro schools: in short, separate but equal schools that do not disturb the existing social patterns which isolate the Negro child in his "disadvantaged areas."

That the commission's explicit concern for Negro problems falls short of its implicit concern for the status quo is also evident in its proposals for housing. It calls for the liberalization of credit and FHA-insured loans in "disadvantaged areas," the implementation of rehabilitation measures and other urban-renewal programs and, as its particular innovation, the creation of a "wide area data bank." Meanwhile it refuses to discuss, much less to criticize, the effect of Proposition 13 or to recommend a new fair-housing code. To protect the Negro against discrimination, the McCone Report supports the creation of a Commission on Human Relations, but does not present any proposals that would enable it to do more than collect information and conduct public-relations campaigns.

THE MOST crucial section of the report is the one on employment and, not unexpectedly, it is also the most ignorant, unimaginative, and conservative—despite its dramatic recommendation that 50,000 new jobs be created. On the matter of youth unemployment, the report suggests that the existing federal projects initiate a series of "attitudinal training" programs to help young Negroes develop the necessary motivation to hold on to these new jobs which are to come from somewhere that the commission keeps secret. This is just another example of the commission's continued reliance on public relations, and of its preoccupation with the "dull, devastating spiral" of Negro failure. The truth of the matter is that Negro youths cannot change their attitudes until they see that they can get jobs. When what they see is unemployment and their Economic Opportunity programs being manipulated in behalf of politicians, their attitudes will remain realistically cynical.

Once again, let me try to cut through the obscurantism which has increasingly come to cloud this issue of Negro attitudes. I am on a committee which administers the Apprenticeship Training Program of the Workers Defense League. For many years the League had heard that there were not enough Negro applicants to fill the various openings for apprenticeship training and had also repeatedly been told by vocational-school counselors that Negro students could not pay attention to key subjects such as English and mathematics. The League began its own recruitment and placement program two years ago and now has more than 500 apprentice applicants on file. When, last fall, Local 28 of the Sheetmetal Workers Union—to take one example—announced that a new admission test for apprentices was to be given soon, the League contacted those applicants who had indicated an interest in sheetmetal work. The young men came to the office, filled out a 10-page application form, filed a ten-dollar fee, and returned it to the Local 28 office. Then, five nights a week for three weeks, they came to Harlem, in many cases from Brooklyn and Queens, to be tutored. Most of the young men showed up for all fifteen sessions, and scored well on the test. At their interviews they were poised and confident. Eleven of these men finally were admitted to a class of 33. The WDL doesn't attribute this success to a miraculous program; it merely knows that when young people are told that at the end of a given period of study those who perform well will obtain decent work, then their attitudes will be markedly different from those who are sent off to a work camp with vague promises.

To cut the cost of job training programs, the McCone Commission avers that compensation "should not be necessary for those trainees who are receiving welfare support." Earlier in the report the authors point out that welfare services tend to destroy family life by giving more money to a woman who lives alone; yet they have the audacity to ask that the practice of not allowing men who are on family relief to earn an additional income be maintained for young men who are working and being trained. How is a young man to be adequately motivated if he cannot feel that his work is meaningful and necessary? The McCone Report would have us say to him, "There, there, young man, we're going to keep you off the streets—just putter around doing this make-work." But the young man knows that he can collect welfare checks and also hustle on street corners to increase his earnings. A man's share of a welfare allotment is pitifully small, but more than that, he should be paid for his work; and if one is interested in his morale, he should not be treated as a charity case.

Continuing with the problem of employment, the report recommends that "there should immediately be developed in the affected area a job training and placement center through the combined efforts of Negroes, employers, labor unions and government." In the absence of actual jobs, this would mean merely setting up a new division, albeit voluntary, of the unemployment insurance program. "Federal and state governments should seek to insure through development of new facilities and additional means of communication that advantage is taken of government and private training programs and employment opportunities in our disadvantaged communities." Perhaps the only thing the Job Corps program doesn't lack is publicity: last summer it received ten times as many applications as it could handle. Nor can new types of information centers and questionnaires provide 50,000 new jobs. They may provide positions for social workers and vocational counselors, but very few of them will be unemployed Negroes.

The report goes on: "Legislation should be enacted requiring employers with more than 250 employees and all labor unions to report annually to the state Fair Employment Practices Commission, the racial composition of the work force and membership." But an FEP Commission that merely collects information and propaganda is powerless. And even with the fullest cooperation of labor and management to promote equality of opportunity, the fact remains that there are not enough jobs in the Los Angeles area to go around, even for those who are fortunate enough to be included in the retraining programs. As long as unions cannot find work for many of their own members, there is not much they can do to help unemployed Negroes. And the McCone Report places much of its hope in private enterprise, whose response so far has been meager. The highest estimate of the number of jobs given to Los Angeles Negroes since the Watts crisis is less than 1,000.

THE NEGRO slums today are ghettos of despair. In Watts, as elsewhere, there are the unemployable poor: the children, the aging, the permanently handicapped. No measure of employment or of economic growth will put an end to their misery, and only government programs can provide them with a decent way of life. The care of these people could be made a major area of job growth. Los Angeles officials could immediately train and put to work women and unemployed youths as school attendants, recreation counselors, practical nurses, and community workers. The federal government and the state of California could aid the people of Watts by beginning a massive public-works program to build needed housing, schools, hospitals, neighborhood centers, and transportation facilities: this, too, would create new jobs. In short, they could begin to develop the $100-billion freedom budget advocated by A. Philip Randolph.

Such proposals may seem impractical and even incredible. But what is truly impractical and incredible is that America, with its enormous wealth, has allowed Watts to become what it is and that a commission empowered to study this explosive situation should come up with answers that boil down to voluntary actions by business and labor, new public-relations campaigns for municipal agencies, and information-gathering for housing, fair-employment, and welfare departments. The Watts manifesto is a response to realities that the McCone Report is barely beginning to grasp. Like the liberal consensus which it embodies and reflects, the commission's imagination and political intelligence appear paralyzed by the hard facts of Negro deprivation it has unearthed, and it lacks the political will to demand that the vast resources of contemporary America be used to build a genuinely great society that will finally put an end to these deprivations. And what is most impractical and incredible of all is that we may very well continue to teach impoverished, segregated, and ignored Negroes that the only way they can get the ear of America is to rise up in violence.

Re: Stokely Carmichael

The confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past advised on December 15, 1966, that Stokely Carmichael and Bayard Rustin debated on December 14, 1966, at Hunter College, New York. The topic of debate was on the future of the Negro Movement For Civil Rights.

Carmichael and Rustin both agreed that if the Negro did not get what he thinks he is entitled to, there will be more riots and insurrections.

Carmichael said there are two types of "blocks" against the Negro, mainly the individual block where an individual takes up his own means of obstructing the Negro's advances for civil rights. Second is the institutional block as exemplified by discrimination against the Negroes in schools, discrimination in housing by landlords and the power regime which hinders the Negro cause.

Carmichael's estimate of the progress of integration was that of merely a "filtering off" of the Negroes which are "accepted" into the white society such as "college guys or professional men" - these are the ones who manage to leave the ghettos and enter the white society.

Carmichael then defended "black power" as a means for the Negro to gain self-esteem and prestige through economic means or through whatever means necessary that is available. According to Carmichael, insurrection was also a means to gain civil rights.

Bayard Rustin, during the debate, was more conservative in his approach to civil rights. Rustin explained the Negro must align himself to the power regime and by this way secure his rights through aligning himself with the majority. According to Rustin, the Negro must work with the "white power" structure for mutual gain.

Rustin further stated that unemployment in the ghettos is going up by leaps and bounds caused by automation and union discrimination. Unemployment, states Rustin, is what breeds insurrection and not the direct contact between the white and the Negro. Unemployment and the "ghetto situation" states Rustin, are what breeds insurrection, it's the feeling of depression.

A second confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on December 16, 1966, that a debate between Stokely Carmichael and Bayard Rustin on the topic of "black power" versus the "Freedom Budget" was held at Hunter College on February 14, 1966, at New York City. Robert Perkins of the Brookline Congress of Racial Equality was the Moderator.

CONFIDENTIAL

CONFIDENTIAL

Stokely Carmichael

Carmichael, when introduced on the stage, began counting the microphones in order to "see which one belonged to the CIA". He then proceeded to tell the audience that the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), and his concept of "black power", is "to control the community by the inhabitants, control - politically, economically and socially". He said no one can support a racist country that "enjoys the sweat that comes from our brothers in South Africa, Latin America and Vietnam". This very same Government, states Carmichael, promotes injustice by supporting apartheid, South Africa. Carmichael said the "Freedom Budget" is not a step forward for it "automatically supports the war in Vietnam."

Carmichael accused President (Lyndon B.) Johnson of being hypocritical when he said that Negroes could help themselves by joining their local democratic parties and yet said Carmichael, "that man did not repudiate the racists of his own party, giving as an example Senator Eastman and Ross Barnett".

Bayard Rustin called upon the people, both black and white to unite around his "Freedom Budget". He said as Negroes "we cannot succeed alone for we are only 10 per cent of the population". Rustin further stated "we must not keep the whites guessing or wondering whether they will be welcome into our program". He said the only way it could work is if we act together both Negro and white. He then challenged Carmichael to show him in "A, B AND C" his program for lifting the Negro. Carmichael answered by saying it was his organization, SNCC, that founded the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party. Carmichael then challenged Rustin on why he and A. Philip Randolph (of the Railroad Porters Union) supported President Johnson in the 1964 election. USA

CONFIDENTIAL

Stokely Carmichael

Rustin replied by saying he supported "President Johnson because he was the lesser of two evils", and though he took a position on President Johnson in 1964, today "it is somewhat modified". Carmichael replied by saying that it is about time for this country to say we do not vote for evil men, that "this is a racist society and the country is racist from the top to the bottom, from left to right".

Later on in his speech, Carmichael said that the political system in this country is outdated and that we need new forms. He stated "if you can't control the politics, you can't control the economy". He further stated that President Johnson must stop the Civil Rights Movement because it is a threat to his great society.

Stokely Carmichael publicly withdrew his name as a supporter of the "Freedom Budget".

The "New York Times", dated December 15, 1966, Page 34, contained an article captioned "Carmichael Says U.S. Cities May Be in Constant Revolt". This article reads as follows:

"Stokely Carmichael, chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, said last night, 'Lyndon Baines Johnson had better wake up or all our cities will be in a constant state of insurrection.'"

"Mr. Carmichael also said, 'It is still a sad day when a Negro with a Ph.D from M.I.T. cannot earn as much as Lynda Bird.'"

"His remarks came in a panel discussion at Hunter College, New York City."

"Another speaker, Bayard Rustin, director of the A. Philip Randolph Institute and architect of the 1963 March on Washington, agreed.

"He said, 'If Negro youngsters riot in the streets tomorrow it is not our responsibility as Negro parents, but the society's responsibility. If there is disorder, Johnson himself is to blame because he has cut away the little carrot we had.'"

Stokely Carmichael

Stokely Carmichael is Chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC).

The April, May, June, 1966 issue of "Rights", a self-described publication of the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee (ECLC), states that at the annual meeting of the National Council of the ECLC, which was held in New York City on April 23, 1966, "Stokely Carmichael, organization executive, Atlanta," was elected a member of the National Council of the ECLC.

EMERGENCY CIVIL LIBERTIES COMMITTEE

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," revised and published as of December 1, 1961, prepared and released by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., contains the following concerning the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee:

"Emergency Civil Liberties Committee

- "1. 'The Emergency Civil Liberties Committee is an organization with headquarters in New York, whose avowed purpose is to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities and discredit the FBI. * * * The committee finds that the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, established in 1951, although representing itself as a non-Communist group, actually operates as a front for the Communist Party. It has repeatedly assisted, by means of funds and legal aid, Communists involved in Smith Act violations and similar legal proceedings. One of its chief activities has been and still is the dissemination of voluminous Communist propaganda material.'

'FRANK WILKINSON was called as a witness when he appeared in Atlanta as a representative of the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee to propagandize against the Committee on Un-American Activities and to protest its hearings. In 1956 WILKINSON was identified as a Communist Party member by a former FBI undercover agent within the Party. Summoned at that time to answer the allegation, his reply to all questions was, "I am answering no questions of this committee." This also became his stock reply to questions when he appeared during the Atlanta hearings. * * * WILKINSON has since been convicted of contempt of Congress and sentenced to one year in jail.

EMERGENCY CIVIL LIBERTIES COMMITTEE (CONT'D)

'Disputing the non-Communist claim of the organization, the committee finds that a number of other individuals connected with the ECLC also have been identified under oath as Communists.

(Committee on Un-American Activities, Annual Report for 1958, House Report 187, March 9; 1959, pp. 34 and 35.)

'To defend the cases of Communist law-breakers, fronts have been devised making special appeals in behalf of civil liberties and reaching out far beyond the confines of the Communist Party itself. Among these organizations are the * * * Emergency Civil Liberties Committee. When the Communist Party itself is under fire these fronts offer a bulwark of protection.'

On October 5, 1966, a confidential source advised that during the forepart of October, 1966, Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., President, Southern-Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), informed ANDREW J. He said this meeting would review existing programs of SCLC and discuss some future programs. If possible, consideration would be afforded methods of raising sorely needed income for SCLC.

According to Reverend KING, in addition to himself and YOUNG, the following officers of SCLC would attend the meeting to which he referred.

JUNIUS ~~X~~ GRIFFIN, Director of Public Relations and Office Administrator, SCLC.

Mrs. DOROTHY F. ~~X~~ COTTON, Director of Citizenship, SCLC.

On October 10, 1966, the Atlanta Constitution, a daily Atlanta newspaper, on page 9 of its morning edition, published an article captioned "King Weighs Opposing All Black Power Groups" bylined GENE ROBERTS. This article referred to an interview of Reverend KING on October 9, 1966 regarding divergence of policy among various civil rights organizations and the need for unification thereof. The article credited Reverend KING with saying he felt there was now a need for SCLC to decide " - - whether the philosophies of his Southern Christian Leadership Conference and the black power organizations are so diametrically opposed we can't get together." In this connection the article continued "He added that he and his top aides would try to reach a decision on this question on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, when he has scheduled a closed door meeting to discuss ways of combating a new wave of white backlash."

Special Agents of the FBI, on October 12, 1966, observed CLARENCE JONES, STANLEY LEVISON, BAYARD RUSTIN, and HARRY WACHTEL arrive at the Atlanta Airport at 7:10 p.m., via Eastern Airlines flight number 103. These individuals were met by a male Negro (identity not known) driving a 1965 Ford country sedan bearing 1966 Georgia registration 1J-45510. They shortly thereafter proceeded in the aforementioned automobile to University Plaza Apartments, Inc., 635 Fair Street, S. W., Atlanta, which they entered at 7:58 p.m.

In a news broadcast commencing at 11:00 p.m., October 12, 1966, station WSB TV, Atlanta presented a brief interview of BAYARD RUSTIN conducted October 12, 1966 at the Atlanta Airport. Introductory comments to this interview stated RUSTIN was in Atlanta to attend an SCLC conference pertaining to "black power." The interview of RUSTIN was essentially limited to several comments by him in opposition to the qualifications of Georgia Gubernatorial candidate LESTER G. MADDOX of Atlanta.

We have a teacher in our school who is considered a radical liberal and misinformed about some of the communists movements in our country today. She teaches History and Negro History. Many parents object to her teachings.

I am not a John Birch Society member nor do I want to interfere with the teachers. But I am troubled about a remark she made on my sons paper regarding his Essay on Civil Rights. At the end of his essay he writes he does believe the Civil Rights movement was being used by the communists and that Martin Luther King's right hand man Bayard Rustin was a well known communist as well as many others in this Civil Rights movement.

She wrote a note on his papers as follows: "Bayard Rustin is one of the most respected men in the Civil Rights movement today. What is the source of the communist accusations? Dr. Martin Luther King has not planned any riots. He is committed to peaceful non-violent protest marches and demonstrations."

My boy got his information for this essay from a book by Allen Stang "Its very Simple" & "Masters of Deceit." How reliable is Allen Stang's book?

Please let me hear your comment on this and mail me some reliable literature on this man Rustin all about his background and his present activities so I can give it to her at the next P. T. A. conference. Also I would like to know how reliable is the John Birch Society literature they are distributing.

DAYARD T. RUSTIN

On page 11, of the January 6, 1967, issue of "The Evening Bulletin," Philadelphia newspaper, Philadelphia, Pa., there appeared an article entitled "Rustin Denounces Negroes Who Refuse Help of Whites." According to this article DAYARD T. RUSTIN attended a testimonial dinner for the Reverend E. MARSHALL BEVINS at the Downingtown Motor Inn, Downingtown, Chester County, Pa. Father BEVINS, age 46, resigned last month from his post as Vicar of two small Episcopal churches in Chester County because he split with his congregation on civil rights. RUSTIN told the more than 200 persons who attended this dinner that Father BEVINS is one of those white men whom Negroes need. It is not the radical group of the right, such as the John Birch Society, that hurt the drive of Negroes for equality. It is rather the apathy of the good people who know what is the right thing to do but don't do it. RUSTIN also denounced as "idiots and fools" those Negroes who want to exclude whites from the civil rights movement. He noted the attempts of several civil rights leaders to drive whites out of the movement as reverse racism. White men who have the courage and nobility to stand up for equality for all men are needed by the Negroes and "we want them in the movement."

In the "Saturday Evening Post," issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, DAYARD RUSTIN is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights." In it, RUSTIN is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party." Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, RUSTIN gave most of his earnings to the "Party." He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

Re New York report of SA [REDACTED], dated

The investigation of BAYARD RUSTIN was precipitated by his membership in the Young Communist League (YCL) in 1938. By his own admission, RUSTIN was an organizer for the YCL in New York. However, according to RUSTIN, he left the "Party" in 1941. U

As an observer for the War Resisters League, RUSTIN attended the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party (CP) held in NYC, February 9-12, 1957. U

It was as a consequence of RUSTIN's early subversive activities in the YCL that the Bureau's interest heightened when he became a close associate and advisor to MARTIN LUTHER KING, the President of the SCLC, and director of the March on Washington, August, 1963. At one time during that association, RUSTIN and STANLEY LEVISON were KING's most sought after advisors. U

During this period, RUSTIN, according to a highly confidential source of the NYO, contacted BENJAMIN J. DAVIS, the National Secretary of the CP, USA, and sought his advice on how to get excused from a speaking engagement to which he was committed. Shortly thereafter, DAVIS died, thus ending that relationship. U

As far as the relationship between KING and RUSTIN is concerned, RUSTIN is rarely consulted since he is full-time director of the A. Philip Randolph Institute, a service center U and clearing house for civil rights organizations. KING seldom mentions RUSTIN's name, according to [redacted] a source which furnishes information about STANLEY LEVISON and his relationship with MARTIN LUTHER KING and the SCLC. In fact, the same source advised on 6/11/67, that KING described RUSTIN as a tired "radical who wants to be secure and will no longer go out on a limb". This, in NYO's opinion, accurately pictures RUSTIN's feelings about KING and the SCLC. U

Since re report, there has been no information received indicating contact between RUSTIN and the CP or any of its members other than LEVISON. His contacts with LEVISON always concern KING and the SCLC. LEVISON and RUSTIN do not have a fondness for each other. U

To Whom it may concern,

In the June issue of the steel workers publication, "Steel Labor," an article states that Bayard Rustin, the executive director of the Phillips Randolph Institute, has been touring the country to work up support for a $100 Billion Dollars for a "Freedom buget." This is supported by U.S.W.A. President, I. W. Abel and dozens of other labor, religious and civil rights leaders.

According to the John Birch Society, Bayard Rustin is a leading communist figure in the United States. Some of my fellow workers and I do not want to pay union dues if it is helping a known Communist or communist cause.

I would like the following questions answered:

1. Is Bayard Rustin now active as a communist?
2. Has he been a member of the Communist Party; if so, up to what date?
3. Can you disclose his Criminal career, if he has one, as stated by the John Birch Society?

Any help in clarifying the conflicting statements of the John Birch Society news and the Steel Labor news, would be appreciated.

IV. MISCELLANEOUS

On December 15, 1966, NY T-7 advised that there was a CARMICHAEL-RUSTIN debate at Hunter College on 69th Street, New York, New York, on December 14, 1966. Subject advocated a "Freedom Budget". The principal speakers were subject and STOKELY CARMICHAEL.

Both the subject and CARMICHAEL disagreed as to the best way for Negro demands to be met; but both agreed if Negro demands are not met insurrection is inevitable.

NY 100-46729

On December 20, 1966, NY T-9 advised that on December 9, 1966 there was a group of pickets sponsored by an organization called "Conscience Against Apartheid" to protest United States bank loans to South Africa. The exact reason for the rally was not mentioned at this time although there was talk about Congressman ADAM CLAYTON POWELL and how he lost his seat in Congress. The subject was not present for this meeting but the subject was mentioned as one of the leaders for this rally scheduled for January 15, 1967.

A characterization of the OAAU is attached to the appendix hereto.

An article in "The Cleveland Press" daily newspaper issue of June 14, 1967, stated that Cleveland has been chosen for an unprecedented summer program in behalf of Negroes by all the nation's civil rights groups.

Another article in the same paper stated that 20 civil rights leaders attended meetings which began on June 12 and ended June 13, 1967. The sessions were held at the Motel on the Mountain, located in the foothills of the Catskill Mountains. The subject was listed in this article as one of the civil rights leaders in attendance at this meeting.

On August 24, 1967, NY T-13 advised the SCLC was holding a retreat September 12-17, 1967 at the Airlie House in the vicinity of Warrenton, Virginia. APPENDIX

ORGANIZATION OF AFRO-AMERICAN UNITY, INCORPORATED (OAAU)

On June 28, 1964, MALCOLM X LITTLE, founder and leader of the Muslim Mosque, Incorporated (MMI), publicly announced the formation of a new, all Negro, militant civil rights action group to be known as the Organization of Afro-American Unity (OAAU), with himself as Chairman. This announcement was made at a public rally held by the MMI in the Audubon Ballroom, Broadway and 166th Street, New York City.

A printed and published statement of basic OAAU aims read by MALCOLM X at this meeting indicates that it shall include "all" people of African descent in the Western Hemisphere, as well as "our" brothers and sisters on the African continent. It is patterned after the "letter and spirit" of the Organization of African Unity established (by African heads of States) at Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, in May, 1963.

A recording of the remarks of MALCOLM X at this meeting indicates that the aim of the OAAU is to eliminate differences between Negroes so they can work together for "human rights", while the initial objective is to "internationalize" the American civil rights movement by taking it to the United Nations. LITTLE condemned the non-violent civil rights movement and claims that Negroes should be taught to protect themselves, when and if necessary. The OAAU will sponsor a program for Negroes in education, politics, culture, economics, and social reform.

MALCOLM X was assassinated on February 21, 1965, while addressing an OAAU rally at the Audubon Ballroom, New York City.

On April 13, 1965, a confidential source advised that on March 26, 1965, the OAAU filed a Certificate of Incorporation with the Department of State, State of New York, Albany, New York, and henceforth, the organization's true name will be Organization of Afro-American Unity, Incorporated.

ORGANIZATION OF AFRO-AMERICAN UNITY, INCORPORATED (OAAU)

On February 28, 1966, a second confidential source advised that the president and head of the OAAU is ELLA COLLINS, a half-sister of the late MALCOLM X, who resides in Harlem, New York.

On May 8, 1967, the first confidential source advised that the headquarters of the OAAU is located at 224 West 139th Street, New York, New York, which is the residence of ELLA COLLINS.

Characterizations of MMI and NOI are set out separately.

MUSLIM MOSQUE, INCORPORATED (MMI)

The March 13, 1964, edition of "The New York Times", a daily newspaper published in New York, New York, contained an article on page 20 which indicated that MALCOLM X (LITTLE), former national official of the Nation of Islam (NOI), who broke with the NOI on March 8, 1964, publicly announced in New York City on March 12, 1964, that he had formed the Muslim Mosque, Incorporated (MMI). The MMI, according to the article, would be a broadly based politically oriented black nationalist movement for Negroes, only, financed by voluntary contributions. In this public statement, MALCOLM X urged Negroes to abandon the doctrine of non-violence when it is necessary to defend themselves in the civil rights struggle, and he also suggested that Negroes form rifle clubs to protect their lives and property in time of emergencies in areas where the government is unable or unwilling to protect them.

Incorporation papers of the MMI filed on March 16, 1964, with the Business Section, Clerk of Courts, New York County, New York, New York, reflect that the MMI was incorporated under the Religious Corporation Law of the State of New York to work for the imparting of the Islamic Faith and Islamic Religion in accordance with "accepted Islamic principles". The principal place of worship to be located in the Borough of Manhattan, New York, New York.

The May 23, 1964, edition of the "New York Amsterdam News", a weekly Negro newspaper published in New York City, contained an article by columnist JAMES BOOKER in which he indicated that he had heard that the visit by MALCOLM X with Muslim leaders during his African tour has changed him to become soft in his anti-white feelings and to become more religious.

On October 6, 1964, a confidential source advised that the MMI is apparently affiliated with the true orthodox Islamic Religion through its affiliation with the Islamic Foundation (of New York), 1 Riverside Drive, New York City. The only teachings of the MMI are on the Islamic Religion.

MUSLIM MOSQUE, INCORPORATED (MMI)

This confidential source advised on May 17, 1965, that the headquarters of the MMI are located in Suite 128, Hotel Theresa, 2090 Seventh Avenue, New York, New York, where they were established on March 16, 1964. These headquarters are shared with the Organization of Afro-American Unity, Incorporated (OAAU) which was also headed by MALCOLM X.

MALCOLM X was assassinated on February 21, 1965, while addressing an OAAU rally at the Audubon Ballroom, Broadway and 166th Street, New York City.

This same confidential source advised on September 8, 1965, that the activities of the MMI following the death of MALCOLM X were limited to the teaching of classes in the Islamic religion and a class in judo for self-protection. These classes were held regularly until the latter part of July, 1965, when they were discontinued. Since then, the MMI has held no meetings and there has been absolutely no activity by the MMI which appears to be completely "dead".

NATION OF ISLAM, FORMERLY REFERRED TO AS THE MUSLIM CULT OF ISLAM, ALSO KNOWN AS MUHAMMAD'S TEMPLES OF ISLAM

In January, 1967, a source advised ELIJAH MUHAMMAD has described his organization on a nationwide basis as the "Nation of Islam" and "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

On May 5, 1967, a second source advised ELIJAH MUHAMMAD is the national leader of the Nation of Islam (NOI); Muhammad's Temple of Islam No. 2, 5335 South Greenwood Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, is the national headquarters of the NOI; and in mid-1960 MUHAMMAD and other NOI officials, when referring to MUHAMMAD's organization on a nationwide basis, commenced using either "Mosque" or "Temple" when mentioning one of "Muhammad's Temples of Islam."

The NOI is an all-Negro organization which was originally organized in 1930 in Detroit, Michigan. MUHAMMAD claims to have been selected by ALLAH, the Supreme Being, to lead the so-called Negro race out of slavery in the wilderness of North America by establishing an independent black nation in the United States. Members following MUHAMMAD's teachings and his interpretation of the "Koran" believe there is no such thing as a Negro; the so-called Negroes are slaves of the white race, referred to as "white devils", in the United States; and the white race, because of its exploitation of the so-called Negroes, must and will be destroyed in the approaching "War of Armageddon."

In the past, officials and members of the NOI, including MUHAMMAD, have refused to register under the provisions of the Selective Service Acts and have declared that members owe no allegiance to the United States.

On May 5, 1958, the first source advised MUHAMMAD had, upon advice of legal counsel, tempered his personal statements and instructions to his ministers concerning the principles of his organization in order to avoid possible prosecution by the United States Government; however, he did not indicate any fundamental changes in the teachings of his organization.

On May 2, 1966, a third source advised MUHAMMAD had, in early July, 1958, decided to de-emphasize the religious aspects of the teachings of Islam and to stress the economic benefits to be derived by those Negroes who joined the NOI. This policy change, according to MUHAMMAD, would help him acquire additional followers and create more interest in his programs.

Dear Mr. Stewart:

I have received your letter of May 9th, with enclosures.

In response to your inquiry, I was quoted correctly in paragraph one relating to my testimony regarding Bayard Rustin. I am enclosing an excerpt from my testimony before the House Subcommittee on Appropriations on February 10, 1966, from which this quote was taken.

Regarding paragraph number four, part two of your enclosures, at a press conference on November 18, 1964, I made the statement that Martin Luther King was the most notorious liar in the country. I did so because he had grossly distorted the facts concerning our Special Agents handling civil rights investigations in the South.

With respect to Mrs. Alberta Ahearn, she furnished information to this Bureau on a confidential basis regarding subversive activities from March, 1949, until December, 1954. She testified in December, 1954, during a State prosecution of Carl Braden for sedition. In keeping with my long-standing policy, I cannot comment further regarding her.

COMMUNISM IN MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE?

It might surprise you what a little newspaper reading and research can yield. Most citizens think Communism is way over there, somewhere, but is it? Wake up, Memphians!

Memphis had a visitor on February 6, 1968. Bayard Rustin came to Memphis. Who is Bayard Rustin?

1. J. Edgar Hoover said: "Bayard Rustin was convicted for sodomy, a violation of the Selective Service Act and was an admitted member of the Young Communist League". (Documentation: 1967 FBI Appropriations, pg. 34)
2. Rustin is active in the Communist-dominated American Forum for Social Education. (Documentation: The Senate Report, pg. 36, 1957 Report)
3. He went to Russia in 1958. (Doc.: Shreveport Journal, Aug. 8, 1963)
4. He attended the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party. (Doc: Allen Stang's "It's Very Simple", pg. 112)
5. He became secretary and advisor to Martin Luther King in 1955. (Doc: New York Times, August 10, 1964)
6. He believes "it's time to broaden the fight—and to seek alliances with liberal sources of power like the labor unions". (Doc: New York Times, August 10, 1964)
7. He organized the 1963 march on Washington, D. C. (Doc: National Review, September, 15, 1964)
8. Rustin, King and Shuttlesworth formed the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC). (Doc: Stang's "It's Very Simple")
9. The SCLC has had close ties with the Southern Conference Educational Fund (SCEF), operated by two well-known Communists, Carl and Anne Braden. (Doc: The State of Louisiana Hearings on the SCEF organization)
10. Rustin addressed AFL-CIO group in Memphis on February 6, 1968. The Memphis garbage strike started five days later. (Doc: Memphis Commercial Appeal, February 7, 1968)

As garbage piles up in Memphis, one of Bayard Rustin's acquaintances appears on the scene leading demonstrations.. the Rev. James M. Lawson. The Rev. Lawson is well qualified to lead the marchers. Who is James M. Lawson?

1. He was imprisoned in 1953 for refusing to register for the draft. (Doc: Memphis Commercial Appeal, November 26, 1967)
2. He studied passive resistance in India for three years. (Doc: News and Courier of Charleston, S. C. March 15, 1960)

COMMUNISM IN MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE

PART II

THE "REAL" MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

King the Lawbreaker: He preaches that "bad" laws should be violated. King blames Chicago riots upon "failure of the city officials...to meet demands.. of Chicago Negroes". (Ref: U.S. News 7/25/65) Something considered "constitutionally unlawful cannot justify unlawful means for their resolution. Two wrongs don't make a right". (Ref: FBI Bulletin, Sept. 1966)

King the Anarchist: King blamed the police in Los Angeles for the rioting in Watts. (Ref: Arkansas Gazette, 8/20/67) Lawlessness and violence accompany King. Mrs. Julia Brown, a Negro who was a counterespionage for the FBI, described King as an enemy to America. (Ref: Arkansas Democrat, April, 1967)

King against America: He calls for defeat of America in Viet Nam. (Ref: U.S. news, 5/8/67) He calls the United States "the greatest purveyor of violence in the world". (Ref: Chicago Tribune, 4/6/67) King, more than once, demanded the abolition of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

King the Liar: King criticized the FBI. According to J. Edgar Hoover, "King has adamantly refused to see any official of the FBI...I consider King to be the most notorious liar in the country". (Ref: U.S. News, 1/30/64)

King the Socialist: He endorsed the work and goals of Norman Thomas, America's Mr. Socialist. (Ref: New Mexico, 12/30/64) King has contributed to LID (League for Industrial Democracy), one of the most influential socialist groups in the United States. (Ref: Congressional Record information on LID, 10/12/62) He has contributed to Liberation, a socialist, pacifist publication.

King and the Communists: George S. Schuyler, an outstanding Negro journalist, wrote that; "But directly or indirectly has Dr. King made any contribution to world (or even domestic) peace?... The Lenin prize would have been more appropriate for him since it is no mean feat for one so young to acquire 60 Communist-Front citations." (Ref: Manchester Union Leader, 11/10/64)

Mrs. Alberta Ahearn, an FBI undercover agent, exposed Anne and Carl Braden of the Southern Conference Education Fund (SCEF) as members of a Communist cell. (Ref: Sunday Star, 12/12/54) King, in 1959, wanted the Bradens to become a part of his Southern Christian Leadership Conference. (Ref: Louisiana Committee Report on SCEF, Part 2)

Hunter Pitts O'Dell was in King's organization until 1963, although the HCUA exposed him as a member of the National Committee of the Communist Party in 1961. (Ref: HCUA Report, 1962)

Bayard Rustin is identified as secretary to King in the Communists' Daily Worker, 4/12/57. According to J. Edgar Hoover, "Rustin was convicted for sodomy and was an admitted member of the Young Communist League. (Ref: FBI Appropriations, 1967, page 94)

King is fusing the peace movement and the civil rights movement. Winston's speech to 23rd Communist Party meeting in USSR. King is highly praised by the Communist press.

CONCLUSION

Being a Negro does not grant King immunity from criticism, nor does it make him a special target. Race has nothing to do with the utterances and actions which expose the real Martin Luther King. His program will help create a Soviet America.

ReBuairtel to NY dated, 5/27/68.

In accordance with referenced Bureau airtel captioned case has been reopened by the NYO to follow RUSTIN'S activities in connection with the Poor Peoples Campaign (PPC).

On 6/3/68, [] who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that the address 217 West 125th St., NYC, which was mentioned by "The Washington Post" as headquarters for "Mobilization in Support of the Poor Peoples Campaign" is the location of the A. Philip Randolph Institute of which RUSTIN is Director.

On 6/5/68, SA [] using a suitable pretext, called New York telephone number 666-9510, which is listed to A. Philip Randolph Institute, 217 West 125th St., NYC. SA [] talked to RUSTIN'S secretary who advised that RUSTIN was the Coordinator of the demonstration to be held June 19, 1968, in Washington, D. C., and that he was going to Washington this same day to confer with other leaders in the Poor Peoples Campaign. Mr. RUSTIN'S secretary stated that RUSTIN is coordinating march activities from his office. Pretext used was that of a Rutgers University college student requesting an interview with RUSTIN concerning march activities for a term paper.

RUSTIN'S secretary further indicated that RUSTIN'S office in NYC is not used for recruiting or support activity as this is handled in Washington, D. C.

AS noted above, RUSTIN'S New York Office for "Mobilization in Support of the Poor Peoples Campaign" at 125th Street is merely the administrative office while his field activity is located in Washington, D. C.

[REDACTED] has furnished information pertaining to BAYARD RUSTIN'S participation in the PPC and it is expected this will continue. RUSTIN'S nominal function in the A. Philip Randolph Institute, (not a militant action organization) is merely advisory and research in nature.

The NYO has a number of sources who are in a position to report on any action type activity of the A. Philip Randolph Institute and/or RUSTIN, should such take place.

RUSTIN, according to the "New York Times" issue of 6/7/68, suspended his activities in the PPC. In view of this, no further action is being taken in this matter.

BAYARD RUSTIN

*Summary
Sex Offender*

Rustin, a self-proclaimed pacifist and civil rights activist, was born March 17, 1942, in Westchester, Pennsylvania. In early 1968 he resided at 340 West 28th Street, New York City, and was employed as Director of the A. Philip Randolph Institute at 217 West 125th Street, New York City.

Rustin has admitted he joined the Young Communist League (the youth arm of the Communist Party, USA) in 1936 and claims he broke with the organization in June, 1941, (at age 28) because he differed with its aims (not ideology). (Sources: Congressional Record, August 13, 1963; New York Herald Tribune, August 14, 1963).

Rustin claims to have served a 28-month prison term during World War II as a conscientious objector. Actually, he was sentenced to three years for failure to report for a physical examination and for (noncombatant) work of national importance. (Source: Congressional Record, August 13, 1963).

Rustin was arrested on October 25, 1946, in Harlem, New York City, for commission of a lewd act. (Source: New York City Police Records).

Rustin was arrested in Pasadena, California, on January 21, 1953, on a charge of sex perversion. He pleaded guilty to propositioning two males to engage in sodomy and admitted he had previously been arrested on the same charge in New York City. He was sentenced to 60 days. (Source: Congressional Record, August 13, 1963).

Rustin, according to the communist press, was one of eight "noncommunist observers" who attended the (closed door) Communist Party National Convention in New York City in 1957. (Source: Daily Worker, February 25, 1957).

Rustin, in 1964, the day after he directed a boycott of the New York City Public Schools, attended as an invited guest a (closed door) cocktail party, honoring a Soviet "peace committee," at the Soviet United Nations Missions in New York City. On the same day he had cancelled his previously scheduled appearance at a civil rights seminar at Syracuse University, stating he was "too tired." (Source: New York Times, February 5 and 6, 1965).

AND THAT IN TRYING TO STOP HIM THE WHOLE THING BLEW UP.

ALLUDING TO HOW RUSTIN WAS CHANGED, LEVISON SAID IT WAS A PROCESS THAT EXTENDED OVER A COUPLE OF YEARS. HE SAID THE SITUATION CHANGED AND RUSTIN MOVED IN AND BECAME THE REPRESENTATIVE FOR ALL THE TRADE UNION HIERARCHY, THE JEWISH ORGANIZATION LEADERS AND PERSONS WHO WERE LOOKING FOR A NEGRO LIKE RUSTIN.

LEVISON EXPRESSED THE BELIEF THAT, WITH KING'S DEATH, RUSTIN THOUGHT HE COULD EMERGE AS THE TOP MAN AND TAKING OVER AS THE COORDINATOR OF THE PPC SOLIDARITY DAY, JUNE NINETEEN NINETEEN SIXTYEIGHT, WAS A BID FOR IT. HE SAID IT WAS TURNED BACK BUT WAS INJURIOUS TO THE CAMPAIGN WHICH WAS FALTERING ANYWAY BECAUSE OF THE WAKNESSES OF RALPH ABERNATHY. LEVISON AND VIC DISCUSSED THE POLITICAL SITUATION NATIONALLY WITH LEVISON NOTING THAT THE ONLY THINGS OUTSIDE THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY ARE SO ISOLATED THAT THEY ARE NOT A PRINCIPAL POLITICAL FORCE. VIC MENTIONED THAT THE MONORITY COMMUNITY IS TOTALLY DISAFFECTED FROM THE ESTABLISHMENT AND STATED THAT TWELVE OF THE BROWN BERETS, WHOM HE DESCRIBED AS MEXICAN AMERICANS WHO ARE STARTING TO DEVELOP A MILITANT WING, HAD BEEN ARRESTED CHARGED WITH A MISDEMEANOR. DATE JAN 8 1986 1628 RFP/CLH

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, learned on June 3, 1968, that on that date, Stanley Levison and [redacted] discussed Bayard Rustin's statement crystalizing the demands on Congress and the Administration of the Poor People's Campaign (PPC) issued by Rustin on June 2, 1968, as a "Call to Americans of Good Will", which is a call for support of the Solidarity Day march of the campaign, June 19, 1968. Levison was critical of Rustin's program describing it as less than what the President's Commission on Civil Disorders recommended. Levison, according to the source, claimed that Rustin has eliminated civil disobedience and a guaranteed income from the program originally presented and that it could be said that Rustin has swept away Martin Luther King's program. He said Rustin has brushed aside Ralph Abernathy, SCLC President, with Abernathy's consent. B

[redacted] stated that he is going to take a firmer position, may have to tell Abernathy he cannot support him and may resign from the SCLC Board. Levison said he is going to tell Abernathy that he is changing his relationship to a more distant one. B

The source advised that later on the same date, Levison expressed to Abernathy his displeasure of the change of program of the PPC announced by Rustin in his statement of demands that appeared in "The New York Times" of June 3, 1968. Abernathy claimed that he had not read this statement, that this must be what Rustin had sent him a telegram on, in which he said he had to go to press. Abernathy added that he thought Rustin was supposed to clear this with Andrew Young, Executive Vice President of the SCLC. ~~D~~

The source pointed out that Levison castigated Abernathy, stating that this is no way to run an organization and that the demands presented by Rustin are less than President Johnson's commission requested. Levison said he does not know why someone had not raised the question, if Abernathy could not organize the June 19 march himself, why have it at all. He stated it was not necessary and asked why Abernathy had to call on Rustin, who has his own axe to grind, to do something that is unnecessary. He said that what is necessary is for the people who came to Washington, D.C. for the PPC to start acting and moving. ~~D~~

Abernathy maintained that the program is not going to be changed and that they may have to have an open clash. ~~B~~

Levison stated that if there is an open clash and the original demands are adhered to, Abernathy cannot hold anything on June 19. He reiterated that the 19th was not vital, and said that it is what the people in Washington for the PPC were going to do, not what the white middle class going to Washington for the 19th might do, that is important. ~~D~~

Abernathy mentioned that the SCLC is going to have action and blamed set-backs it has suffered, where organization has been concerned, for lack of action. He added that he is upset over the demands presented by Rustin in his statement which he claimed to know nothing about. ~~D~~

Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC)

Levison stated that Rustin deleted the part about opposition to the war and watered down the demand on jobs. He felt that it is a question of integrity. He advised Abernathy that people are questioning why, if Rustin was brought in to conduct the June 19 march, he is now head of everything and is issuing the program. He claimed that this has thrown things into confusion and said that no one asked his opinion which should have been done. He noted that he had worked closely with Rustin before, was involved in the PPC, but was never asked to a meeting. He stated that it is incredible to him that Rustin was brought in. B

Abernathy blamed Andrew Young for Rustin having been brought in to lead the June 19 mass march to Washington and claimed that Young did it in his absence. He agreed that Levison should have been consulted from the beginning and said it was understood that he, Abernathy, would make all policy statements. He asked what Levison would recommend, and said that he knows that things are in a mess and hoped Levison would not abandon it. He asked Levison for counsel. B

Levison felt he should not recommend anything at this point because he has no confidence that saying anything means anything. He said he did not feel he could give Abernathy counsel under the circumstances that exist. He added that there is no organization and that he cannot operate under these conditions because where there is no organization nothing can be done. He suggested that Abernathy call in other SCLC officials such as Joe Lowery and Ben Hooks to see what can be done. B

Abernathy noted that a meeting of the Administrative Committee had been called for Friday, June 7, 1968, and wanted Levison to attend. Levison stated he would have to consider it because he does not want to take responsibility for something he feels cannot be done or to suggest solutions when he does not know what happened or what went wrong. B

Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC)

Subsequently, the source ascertained that Levison advised Harry Wachtel that he had spoken to Coretta King, widow of Martin Luther King, and told her that the SCLC has forgotten what the people who went to Washington for the PPC went for. He said he told her that she does not have the capacity to solve the problems, that he does not believe she should go into the leadership but if she does he will not go with her. Levison mentioned that there is a complete lack of integrity, that if they are not shaken up now nothing but evil will happen. He noted that Andrew Young does not want leadership preferring to be in the second level of leadership but that Coretta King wants the top leadership. He added that both Abernathy and Coretta King are inadequate. ~~B~~

The source also advised that Levison and Wachtel discussed an SCLC meeting to be held in Washington, D.C. and they agreed to meet at the Willard Hotel in Washington, D.C., on the evening of June 4, 1968. ~~B~~

The source learned on June 4, 1968, that on that date, Levison and Andrew Young discussed the SCLC meeting to be held in Washington, D.C. Levison mentioned that the meeting time had been changed because Coretta King was going to a union convention in Miami. He was critical of Coretta accepting this invitation because he had advised against it. ~~B~~

According to Young, a [redacted], who is unknown to the source, told him that six or seven international presidents were going to Washington for the meeting the night of June 4, 1968, and wanted to talk to Abernathy about organizing; also that one [redacted], whom the source could not identify, is trying to put together a group of unions that would make a commitment which would produce between a quarter of a million and a half million dollars annually for the SCLC. ~~B~~

Levison felt that if this is true then everybody should attend the meeting and not be concerned with Miami. ~~B~~

Young explained that he felt Abernathy should attend but was not anxious to have Coretta King in on the negotiations with the international presidents. He said that he had suggested Wednesday, June 5, as a better day for the meeting. Young also mentioned that [] said that with respect to the SCLC going into a membership campaign that they want to try to guarantee that a good percentage of their membership would become SCLC members and that they are willing to push a membership drive but want Abernathy to be present. ~~B~~

Levison said he saw no objection for not going along with the meeting or going along with [] SCLC membership proposal. ~~B~~

Young brought up the matter of Bayard Rustin's statement and said that Rustin wanted him to approve it. Young stated that he would not approve it without a group analyzing it. He said he did not know why Rustin issued it. ~~B~~

Levison attacked Rustin's statement stating he has never seen anything as insulting. He said that the PPC effort in Washington is being sabotaged by the SCLC people in Washington, including Young, by actions such as bringing Rustin in to run the June 19 march. He told Young the SCLC was playing house with Resurrection City, that it had been said at the outset that not much of a city would be needed because once the action began and people went to jail they would be fed there. He said there has not been any campaign and for Rustin to come in as he has, compounds all the confusion about leadership. ~~B~~

Levison brought up the fact that Coretta King wants to be on the SCLC Administrative Committee. He said he told her that the problems are too deep for her to think she can solve them, that she had underestimated the gravity of the problems and overestimated herself. He noted that Coretta is not sure whether she can work on the book she had planned for July because she felt she had to be in Resurrection City and that she has been told she has a duty to the movement. He said he told her that the book represents financial security and warned her against people trying to use her. Levison added that he believes that Coretta's conceit is such that she could not be afraid of doing the book. He said she resents the fact that they have set up a situation in which she can be financially independent but has to put out effort for it. He said she resents the money coming into the SCLC and thinks the movement owes her a living. ~~S~~

Levison and Young agreed to meet at the Pitt Motel in Washington, D.C. on the afternoon of June 4, 1968. ~~(u)~~

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), in July, 1963. ~~E~~ In late 1963, and early 1964, he criticized the CP for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in his position on civil rights. His differences with the CP, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism. ~~(S)~~

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights." In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

Congressman John J. Rooney of New York, Chairman of our House Appropriations Subcommittee, when being contacted on another matter on 9-18-68 indicated he would appreciate being furnished a summary of public source information, if available, on the captioned individual for his information. He also stated he would like for his confidential information a copy of the arrest record on Rustin pointing out he recalled during the Director's testimony in connection with our fiscal year 1967 appropriation request, that the Director had placed on the record some information concerning the morals arrest of Rustin in California.

Attached is a copy of that portion of the printed testimony which contains the reference to Rustin which occurred in a colloquy between Chairman Rooney and the Director during his appearance in behalf of our 1967 appropriation. Also attached is a blind memorandum setting forth public source data regarding Rustin as well as a copy of the criminal record as contained in the Identification Division files on Rustin.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that approval be granted to furnish Rooney the attached public source information concerning Rustin as well as the copy of his criminal record, the latter to be furnished on a strictly confidential basis.

Mr. LIPSCOMB. It is also a Communist objective, is it not, to down-grade, criticize, and try to split up our intelligence process?

Mr. HOOVER. That has been the case, as I cited in my testimony. The KGB, which has a very substantial number of men in New York attached to its residency office there, the head of which is a member of the United Nations Soviet mission, is engaged at all times in trying to discredit by use of forged documents or any other method they can use to discredit U.S. intelligence agencies, principally the CIA and the FBI. Every now and then they go after somebody else, but we are the two main targets as we have caused them the most trouble as far as their activities are concerned. We have been able to keep abreast of their activities.

The unfortunate thing is that some people in this country, perhaps well-meaning, not necessarily dupes, are willing to accept the idea that we can live in peaceful coexistence. I don't believe you can live in peaceful coexistence with a country that every year has intensified its intelligence and espionage operations against this country.

Mr. LIPSCOMB. The media—newspaper, radio and TV—should be very aware that deep research should be made into the material that they start picking up.

Mr. HOOVER. I think that is true. Many of the newspapers have done an excellent job. Some of the newspaper chains such as the Hearst, Scripps-Howard, Newhouse and the Copley Press and various other chains of that type, have done an excellent job. Some columnists have done a very effective job.

I do not believe that everybody who is opposed to the foreign policy in Vietnam is necessarily a Communist. That, of course, would be ridiculous as a charge, but there are many gullible people who are against the policy in Vietnam as a result of the propaganda put out by some college professors who are naive and some students lacking in maturity and objectivity are constantly agitating and carrying on demonstrations in some of our largest universities.

BAYARD RUSTIN

At the University of Maryland last year, at a law enforcement institute held for police officers of Maryland, Virginia, and Washington, D.C., the university invited Bayard Rustin to be one of the speakers. Bayard Rustin was convicted for sodomy, a violation of the Selective Service Act and was an admitted member of the Young Communist League. Such a selection was not to the credit of the university.

Mr. ROONEY. I intended to ask you about him. Was he convicted on his own plea of guilty to the crime of sodomy?

Mr. HOOVER. He was. He admitted sodomy. He was apprehended in Pasadena, Calif.

If they wanted a man to speak on civil rights they could have invited Roy Wilkins of the NAACP, who is a reputable man, or some other responsible racial leader. But to pick out a man who has such a bad background was wrong.

(Discussion off the record).

SOVIET TRADE ORGANIZATIONS

Mr. LIPSCOMB. Mr. Director, there seems to be an increase in the contact that American businessmen are having with Soviet trade missions.

Re: MEMORIAL MARCH COMMEMORATING
DEATH OF DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.,

APRIL 4, 1969
RACIAL MATTERS

On March 13, 1969, Jesse Epps, International Representative of the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees (AFL-CIO), and the Reverend James Lawson, Pastor of the Centenary Methodist Church, Memphis, Tennessee, held a press conference at Memphis, Tennessee, at which press conference Jesse Epps announced that a memorial march will be held through downtown Memphis, Tennessee, April 4, 1969, the first anniversary of the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Epps stated that the Memphis march will begin at the same time as the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC)-sponsored "Poor People's March" to Washington, D. C., which was announced in Miami, Florida, on March 12, 1969, by the Reverend Ralph David Abernathy, President of the SCLC.

Epps stated that Coretta King, widow of Dr. King, and the Reverend Abernathy are among those invited to attend the beginning of this march at Memphis, Tennessee. Mr. Epps stated that when the marchers arrive at the Lorraine Motel, where Dr. King was killed, they will place a wreath at a large picture of Dr. King, and observe a minute of silence. CA

MEMORIAL MARCH COMMEMORATING

TO BE HELD MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE,
APRIL 4, 1969

"A memorial march will be held through downtown Memphis on April 4, first anniversary of the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King. On the same day, another 'Poor Peoples' march to Washington will originate here.

"They are not related, said Jesse Epps, international representative of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFL-CIO), when he announced the local march yesterday.

"The Washington march had been announced Wednesday night in a Miami speech by the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, successor to Dr. King as leader of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

"The announcements were made separately, but Memphis planners were looking for harmony. 'We will not try to stand in conflict,' said the Rev. James Lawson, pastor of Centenary Methodist Church and a civil rights leader. 'It will be one single happening.'

"Mr. Epps and the Rev. Mr. Lawson were close-mouthed about details of the Memphis march, but in Washington, Jerry Wurf, president of the AFSCME, said it would begin at Clayborn Temple, go by the Lorraine Motel, where Dr. King was killed, and proceed to City Hall.

"At City Hall, political, union, and church leaders are expected to speak. Mr. Epps said Mrs. Coretta King, widow of Dr. King, and the Rev. Mr. Abernathy are among those invited.

"When the marchers arrive at the motel, they will place a wreath at a large picture of Dr. King and observe a minute of silence.

"The Rev. Mr. Lawson said the march is not connected with the conviction Monday of James Earl Ray, who pleaded guilty to killing Dr. King and has started serving a 99-year sentence. 'This is just to bring about changes that Memphis and the nation must have.'

"Dr. H. Ralph Jackson, director of the Minimum Salary Department of the AME Church and vice chairman of Community on the Move for Equality (COME), conducted the Washington press conference with Mr. Wurf and said caravans from other cities, particularly those in which employees are organized, will move into Memphis for the march. Dr. Jackson added that COME will furnish 24 buses to bring marchers from Marks, Miss.; Fayette County, Tenn.; and areas in Arkansas.

"He will meet Monday, he said, with Frank Holloman, fire and police director, to secure the necessary permits.

D.C.

"Bayard Rustin, who co-ordinated the Washington march in 1963, agreed last week to direct the Memphis march.

"Mr. Wurf said he did not feel there would be a problem getting time off for city-employed union members, calling attention to April 4 being Good Friday which many consider a holiday. 'Let me assure you there will be no shutdown of critical public services,' he added.

"Announcing the national march, the Rev. Mr. Abernathy said he will personally lead it, calling it the second chapter of the 'Poor Peoples Campaign.' Without elaborating, he said the march will include a 'Black Easter' celebration enroute to Washington.

"'I do not anticipate the building of a Resurrection City as such,' the Rev. Mr. Abernathy told the Miami audience, 'but we do intend to use our First Amendment rights of orderly and peacefully petitioning the President as well as the Congress for redress of our grievances.'"

On March 13, 1969, a confidential source familiar with SCLC activities at Memphis, Tennessee, advised that no plans have been formulated by the local SCLC organization regarding either the memorial march commemorating the death of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., to be held at Memphis, Tennessee, April 4, 1969, or the "Poor Peoples March" on Washington, D. C., which has been announced as beginning at Memphis, Tennessee, also on April 4, 1969.

Bayard Rustin Speaks

On Blacks And Jews

Two years ago, in response to a growing trend of hostility between Negroes and Jews, I wrote that "it would be one of the great tragedies of Negro and Jewish experiences in a hostile civilization if the time should come when either group begins using against each other the same weapon (of prejudice) which the white majorities of the West have used for centuries to crush and deny both of them their sense of humanity." Events have made these words even more relevant today. Jewish leaders have spoken to the Jewish conscience about these developments, and it is with a sense of urgency that Negro leaders must now address their own communities.

I am sure I need not explain to Negroes why anti-semitism, as a form of prejudice, is morally wrong. Certainly Negroes have seen as clearly as any people in history how prejudice can brutalize and oppress. They have seen how bigots can stereotype a race and deny the dignity of a people because they have neither the courage to recognize that dignity nor the wisdom to understand it. And certainly Negroes must know that if an atmosphere of vilification and condemnation is permitted to develop, that they themselves will be its chief victims. It is in this sense that the anti-semitism of some Negroes is not only morally wrong but strategically suicidal.

I have written before that anti-semitism is an outgrowth of frustration, that because Negroes have been obstructed in their fight for full equality, there have been some who in their despair have attacked those very people who have been the closest allies of the Negro struggle--namely, the Jews. To understand this, however, is not to condone it. Nor is it to ignore the politically disastrous effect that anti-semitism will have on Negroes, for if it is permitted to gain a foothold, it will be the first step in the disintegration of the liberal Catholic-Jewish-Protestant coalition on which Negroes have had to depend for the passage of civil rights legislation and other measures for social and economic justice.

Up to now the distinguishing -- and most distinguished -- feature of the Negro struggle for social equality has been its moral authority. On the basis of this authority we have been able to appeal in our struggle to the great American documents such as the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution as the moral and legal foundation of our demands. The emergence of anti-semitism not only undermines the basis of this appeal, but it makes a travesty of a movement that has been the conscience of this nation.

I appeal to the Jewish community not to permit the anti-semitism of a small, unrepresentative minority in the black community to drive them out of the struggle for social justice and democracy. And I emphasize that this is in their interest, for if the overall struggle for democracy breaks down, then Jews -- a minority themselves, like Negroes -- will inevitably suffer. The central problem, as some Jewish leaders have pointed out, is that racism is unavoidable when there is no democratically viable alternative for dealing with social and economic injustice.

And I appeal to the Negro community, that just as we call on Jews to continue their dedication to democracy and social equity, that we pledge not to ignore or excuse any manifestation of anti-semitism in the black community and to combat it vigorously wherever it appears. I urge this not for the sake of Jews or Negroes, but for the sake of the preservation of the democratic values which Jews and Negroes must share -- values we must all share in the ultimate hope of a liberated mankind.

Facts Not Fiction

By LEON J. ELL

The writer had intended to begin this article bemoaning the lack of understanding between the blacks and Jews, but having read the very excellent and pertinent column by Mr. Bayard Rustin, that appeared in the Miami Times, February 7th issue, entitled "On Blacks and Jews," I will omit that part of my intended article, so eloquently and factually covered by Mr. Rustin, and attempt to show the black people the warmth and concern that the American Jews felt and have shown towards the Negroes in the United States during their period of slavery and thereafter.

The dissertation of facts that follow are in no sense intended to claim any special compensation for the help the Jews have given to the Negro people. I cite them for the purpose of showing that the Jews have, all through the ages, sought justice for all oppressed people, black and white. The Jews more than any other group of people have felt the injustice of collective responsibilities.

Heinrich Heine, the great German-Jewish poet, admonished "Do not judge a people by its peddlers on the street, judge them by their apostolic succession of greatness."

It is unjust to charge the Jewish people with exploitation as landlords or merchants. They should be judged by their action whether they are Jews, white Gentiles, or Negroes and not as a people.

Themselves age-old victims of discrimination, Jews have always been acutely sensitive to the plight of other oppressed minorities. In America, as far back as the early part of the 19th century, they have shown a marked interest in the welfare of all other minority groups and a desire to help eliminate injustices against these countrymen. Indicative of this attitude has been the contribution of American Jews to the well-being of the Negro.

This report is an attempt to cite several outstanding and recorded contributions to the civic, economic, educational, and social welfare of the black people. It does not evaluate these benefactions, nor does it lay claim to completeness. It is based almost entirely upon the information culled from bibliography.

The earliest recorded instance of Jewish effort in behalf of Negroes date back to the opening decades of the 19th century. Judah Touro, a prominent Jewish resident of New Orleans, the nerve center of early slave traffic, was opposed to the scenes of enslavement which he saw about him. Emancipating his own personal servant, he not only trained him for business, but furnished him with money and valuable advice in business affairs. He also made possible the freeing of the slaves owned by a friend with whom he made his home, training them and furnishing them too with money to establish themselves. In all his benefactions -- hospitals, orphanages, etc. -- the underlying condition always was that no discrimination be made on account of race or creed.

Also violently anti-slavery were the German Jewish immigrants of 1848 who had but a short time back witnessed the inhumanity of oppression in their native land. They were very active in the "underground railway" and gave many champions to the abolitionist cause. Among them were:

(a) Sabato Morais, of Philadelphia, and Rabbi Bernhard Felsenthal and Liebman Adler, of Chicago, who preached against slavery;

(b) Rabbi David Einhorn, of Baltimore, who was compelled to give up his ministry because of his anti-slavery sentiments;

(c) Michael Heilprin, a writer, who converted many leaders to abolition by his brilliant articles in the New York Tribune;

(d) Leopold Blumenberg, of Baltimore, only seven years in the United States, who left a good business to organize the 5th Maryland Regiment of which he became major. He goaded neighboring secessionists by his anti-slavery activities and one night barely escaped being lynched by them.

Jews also aided materially in founding and supporting the anti-slavery Republican Party. Several were delegates to the convention which nominated Lincoln.

In modern times, the record of Jewish benefactions is more extensive and much more impressive. Many Jews have devoted much time and energy to the alleviation of Negro suffering and the elimination of injustice. In the defense of Negro rights, for instance, the extent of Jewish participation has been so great as to call forth the praise of Negro groups and the resentment of un-democratic groups in the South.

Following the race riots in 1908, a Kentuckian white, William English Walling, called for a body of citizens to come forward and defend the citizenship rights of American Negroes. Fifty distinguished Americans of all faiths and creeds affixed their signatures to the call. Among these were several prominent Jews: Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York, Rabbi Emil G. Hirsch of Chicago, Dr. Henry Moskowitz of New York, and Lillian D. Wald, pioneer settlement worker. This was the beginning of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People -- an organization which still functions at the present time.

Since 1908, many Jews have been actively engaged in the important civic-protective work of the NAACP. Most noteworthy among them have been the Spingarn brothers, Arthur and Joel Elias. A professor at Columbia University, Joel E. Spingarn was president of the organization for almost ten years -- from 1930 to July 1939. At various times, he also held the positions of treasurer and chairman of the National Board of Directors. Upon his death in 1939, he was succeeded by his brother, Arthur Spingarn, who still retains that post. Author of The Negro and the War and Introduction to the African Saga, the incumbent president, who has been practicing law in New York City since 1900, formerly held the positions of chairman of the National Legal Committee and vice-president of the organization. When, in 1910, it became popular in the Southern communities to attempt to prescribe by law the places where black people might and might not live, he carried the fight against this action to the highest court in the land, the U. S. Supreme Court contesting its constitutionality. He won his case. In this particular phase of the organization's work, he was aided by another Jewish member of the Board of Directors and outstanding communal leader, Louis Marshall. Marshall appeared at Washington on various occasions to argue before the Supreme Court cases regarding the civil rights of Negroes, to whom he frequently gave counsel. He represented the NAACP before the Supreme Court in the famous Texas "white primary" case. The case arose out of passage by the Texas legislature of a law specifically excluding Negro citizens from democratic primaries in that state. In March, 1927, he won his case when the court handed down a unanimous decision declaring the law unconstitutional. Marshall also supervised the legal action in the Virginia "white primary" case, which the NAACP carried before the High Court in 1929 and won. His efforts in behalf of black people were recognized and appreciated when he was incited as guest speaker to the annual convention of the National Association in 1927. After his death the following tribute was paid to him in the forward to the 20th annual report of the organization:

"The deaths during 1929 of the Association's two greatest legal champions, Moorfield Storey (non-Jew) and Louis Marshall, were staggering blows and the unique positions they occupied cannot be filled."

A tablet bearing the following inscription was also erected in the Temple Emanu-El in New York City by the Association: In Memory of who, believing that justice should know no color line, fought valiantly for the rights of the Negro. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People thus records its gratitude.

The writer believes that knowledge of the facts is a prerequisite to understanding and, to that end, cited facts, hoping that my fellow black American will read same, thus helping to bring about a closer relation for their mutual benefit.

Next installment will cover further information. Meanwhile, I would like to get a reaction from the readers of the Miami Times to the above column, favorable or otherwise.

Bayard Rustin, well-known Negro civil rights activist and Executive Director of the A. Phillip Randolph Institute, writing in the February 8, 1969 issue of the "Amsterdam News", a Negro newspaper published in New York City (NYC), warns against the continuance of hostility between Negro and Jew and quotes a previous statement he made on the subject in which he said it would be a great tragedy if either group used prejudice against the other.

Rustin notes that anti-Semitism is an outgrowth of frustration and that some Negroes, obstructed in their fight for equality, have attacked the Jews who have been their allies. He states that this cannot be condoned because anti-Semitism can be politically disastrous for Negroes if permitted to gain a foothold. He warns that anti-Semitism by Negroes is morally wrong and that Negroes will be the ones hurt if an atmosphere of villification is allowed to develop.

Rustin further warns that anti-Semitism will undermine the most distinguishing feature of the Negro struggles, its moral authority. He appeals to the Jewish community to not allow any anti-Semitism on the part of a small minority of the Negro community to drive them out of the Negro struggle. He also calls upon Negroes not to excuse any incident of anti-Semitism by Negroes and to combat it whenever it appears.

Black Solidarity Day

NEW YORK—Black Solidarity Day, a demonstration on behalf of full rights for Negroes, drastically cut school attendance and caused some absenteeism at places of business.

Most schools in Negro districts reported attendance ranging from only 10 per cent of normal to 30 per cent. At least two schools in Manhattan were closed.

Negro policemen drove with their lights on as did many Negroes throughout the city. A number of stores in Harlem were closed and displayed signs calling for black solidarity.

City offices and the Transit Authority reported no appreciable absenteeism although Mayor John V. Lindsay told black workers they were free to take the day off and have it charged against annual leave or overtime.

Kopechne Inquest

EDGARTOWN, Mass.—Lawyers for prospective witnesses at the Mary Jo Kopechne inquest have been called to a private conference Thursday with Judge James A. Boyle in District Court.

The inquest centers on the legal cause of Miss Kopechne's death. The 28-year-old secretary was found dead July 19 in a car owned by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, which had plunged off a bridge and into a pond on Chappaquiddick Island.

The State Supreme Court has ordered the inquest closed to the press and public. The court allowed witnesses to bring their own attorneys into the session but refused to give attorneys the privilege of cross-examination.

Rustin Named

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—The University of Notre Dame named civil rights leader Bayard Rustin as the first Negro member of its board of trustees. He will be one of 33 lay trustees who have controlled the Catholic university since 1967. He is not a Catholic.

Rustin, a pacifist who was imprisoned during World War II as a conscientious objector, was a leader in the infant civil rights movement of the 1940s. He helped draw up plans for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and served as special assistant to the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. for many years.

Foundation Appeal

The National Foundation appealed to the Supreme Court for the right to walk door-to-door collecting money for the March of Dimes.

The foundation said a ban imposed by Fort Worth, Tex., restrained the foundation's constitutional rights to speech and expression. A ruling for the fund could upset bans imposed elsewhere on charitable foundations.

The March of Dimes was halted in Fort Worth on a finding that expenses exceeded 20 per cent of the collections. The foundation quarreled with this estimate, but maintained that in any event under Supreme Court decisions the First Amendment guarantees the right to make door-to-door solicitations.

SUBJECT: BAYARD RUSTIN

Jay Howe, Clerk of our House Appropriation Subcommittee, telephonically contacted the writer this afternoon and stated that Chairman Rooney had just learned of Rustin's being appointed to the Board of Trustees at Notre Dame University and was most concerned at this development. Howe stated the Chairman had requested that he call the Bureau to see if it would be possible to get any details concerning the arrest of Rustin on a sodomy charge which the Director had mentioned at a previous hearing during his appropriations testimony. Howe indicated he felt the Chairman wanted to take this matter up with some clergy friends of his to see what if possible could be done about removing Rustin from his recently appointed position.

Attached is a copy of a reprint from the Director's 1967 appropriation testimony dealing with Bayard Rustin which was given on the record. In addition, there is attached a thumbnail sketch of Rustin which was brought up to date on 11-5-69 by the Domestic Intelligence Division which sets forth the specifics with regard to Rustin's conviction in California in 1953 on a charge of sex perversion (sodomy). Also attached for information is a copy of the FBI criminal record of Rustin.

The thumbnail sketch indicates that on the occasion of Rustin's arrest in California on the sex charge he admitted a previous arrest on the same charge in New York City in 1946. Attempts were made to verify Rustin's arrest in New York City in 1946 without success.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the attached copy of the excerpts from the Director's 1967 appropriation testimony and the thumbnail sketch on plain bond unwatermarked paper be furnished to Rooney and that he be given the identification arrest record.

Bayard Rustin was born March 17, 1912, in Westchester, Pennsylvania. He was educated at Wilberforce University, Wilberforce, Ohio, and the City College of New York.

Rustin is an ardent pacifist and is considered to be a foremost Negro exponent on the doctrine of passive resistance. An orator of some prominence, Rustin has delivered lectures at various universities and pacifist meetings throughout the United States as well as abroad. He has been active in numerous picketing activities and demonstrations as well as other agitational activities against military conscription and racial segregation.

He has admitted joining the Young Communist League (the youth arm of the Communist Party, USA) in 1936 and claims he severed relations with the organization in June, 1941. He has also admitted membership in the American Student Union during the period 1939-40. This organization has been cited as a communist front organization by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

INTERNAL SECURITY see XXX

Rustin served as secretary to the late Martin Luther King, Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, from 1956 to 1960. In 1962, he was appointed Assistant Secretary of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and subsequently served as Deputy Director of the August 28, 1963, "March on Washington." In this latter capacity he was an extremely active organizer.

Rustin was convicted in February, 1944, for a violation of the Selective Service Act of 1940 for which he received a sentence of three years. He was conditionally released from jail on June 11, 1946. On October 25, 1946, he was reportedly arrested by the New York City Police Department for a violation of Section 722 of the Penal Code (offering to commit a lewd or indecent act). He was arrested in Pasadena, California, on January 21, 1953, on a charge of sex perversion. He pleaded guilty to propositioning two males to engage in an act of sodomy and admitted a previous arrest on the same charge in New York City. He received a sentence of sixty days on this charge.

In addition to the above, Rustin has also been arrested on a number of occasions in connection with his activities of an agitational nature concerned with civil rights and pacifist programs.

This is to recommend handling of a request from Congressman Lukens (R-Ohio). Our files reveal limited but cordial relations with him. Congressman Lukens, by letter 11-15-69, has requested any information regarding Bayard Rustin, Director, Philip Randolph Institute and George E. Agree, Director, Committee for the Democratic Process, and specifically the purpose of the two organizations including their board of directors and any other data of a political or criminal nature including citations by Congressional Committees for any subversive activity.

Our files disclose that George E. Agree has not been investigated by Bureau. In 1954, one George E. Agree was listed as Executive Secretary, National Committee for an Effective Congress; (to elect qualified liberals to office). We have no record in our files of the Committee for the Democratic Process. Bayard Rustin, a self-proclaimed pacifist and civil rights activist, is well known to Bureau and indicated as Executive Director of the A. Philip Randolph Institute at 217 West 125th Street, New York City. By memorandum 9-19-68, Mr. Callahan to Mr. Mohr captioned "Bayard Rustin, Civil Rights Activist," it was approved that, pursuant to his request to be furnished public source information about Rustin, that Congressman John J. Rooney of New York be furnished a blind memorandum setting forth public source data about Rustin as well as Rustin's criminal record. Also, a copy of that portion of the printed testimony which contains the reference to Rustin which occurred in a colloquy between Chairman Rooney and the Director during his appearance in behalf of our 1967 appropriation was furnished.

It will not be possible to furnish Congressman Lukens information from our files due to the confidential nature. However, it is felt that since the above described information regarding Rustin has previously been furnished to a Congressional member in the past, that this data could be furnished Lukens in this instance. Copies of these documents have been duplicated and are attached.

BAYARD RUSTIN

~~X~~ — SUMMARY
Bayard Rustin was born on March 17, 1912, at West Chester, Pennsylvania, and was educated at Wilberforce University, Wilberforce, Ohio, and the City College of New York.

Rustin is an ardent pacifist who has been affiliated with a number of pacifist-type organizations, and is considered to be a foremost Negro exponent on the doctrine of passive resistance. An orator of some prominence, Rustin has delivered lectures at various universities and pacifist meetings throughout the United States as well as abroad. He has been active in numerous picketing activities and demonstrations as well as other agitational activities against military conscription and racial segregation. In 1952, he was the Executive Secretary of the War Resisters League, an international pacifist organization.

On February 2, 1949, the American Consul General, Bombay, India, reported to the Department of State concerning unfavorable impressions made by Rustin during a six-week lecture tour during December, 1948, and January, 1949. It was noted that Rustin spoke very unfavorably and in an inflammatory manner regarding racial conditions in the United States, with his public appearances and statements being highlighted and given an anti-American slanting in the Indian press.

He has admitted joining the Young Communist League (the youth arm of the Communist Party, USA) in 1936 and claims he severed relations with the organization in June, 1941. He has also admitted membership in the American Student Union during the period 1939-40. This organization has been cited as a communist front organization by the House Committee on Internal Security. Rustin has stated that he withdrew from this organization in 1940 to embrace the Quaker religion.

Rustin was investigated by this Bureau for Selective Service violation in 1943 and 1944, when he refused to comply with the provisions of the Act on grounds of alleged conscientious objection. During the course of this investigation, Agents of the New York Office observed Rustin acting as Chairman of a pacifist-type meeting in New York City on February 12, 1943, during the course of which he urged men in the audience to come out on the stage and burn their draft cards. Rustin pleaded guilty on February 17, 1944, to an indictment charging violation of the Selective Service Act of 1940 and was sentenced to three years' imprisonment on that date. He was conditionally released from prison on June 11, 1946.

He reportedly accompanied four American pacifists to Africa in late 1959 to protest against hydrogen bomb tests by French authorities. He had in April, 1958, accompanied a small group of American pacifists to England to protest production of nuclear weapons. While this group was in England they participated in public demonstrations and attempted interviews with high-ranking government officials.

Bayard Rustin, described as Chairman of the War Resisters League, spoke before a public meeting of the Monroe Defense Committee held in New York City on October 5, 1961, in which he advocated militant aggressive action by the Negro people if there are no other means to procure equality. Rustin stated that there had been a breakdown in law enforcement on a national, state, county and local level in the South and that it was not only the right but the duty of Negro people to furnish the law enforcement protection themselves. Rustin stated that the Negro people should furnish this protection by armed force if necessary and by forming their own police force. He said that this police force would not be recognized as such by state authorities but would be a moral police force with the right to bear arms, to stop, to question and to detain persons even though it was recognized that the State would call this kidnaping. These statements were made as Rustin believed that his former passive resistance had not been sufficient.

A confidential source of this Bureau reported attending a meeting held in Portland, Oregon, on October 6, 1950, sponsored by the Fellowship of Reconciliation at which Rustin spoke. In response to a direct question from the audience Rustin stated that he formerly was a member of the Communist Party but was no longer so affiliated. Rustin, among others, was listed as an "impartial observer" at the Communist Party, USA, National Convention in 1957.

Rustin served as secretary to the late Martin Luther King, Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, from 1956 to 1960. In 1962, he was appointed Assistant Secretary of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and subsequently served as Deputy Director of the August 28, 1963, "March on Washington." In this latter capacity he was an extremely active organizer.

On October 25, 1946, he was reportedly arrested by the New York City Police Department for a violation of Section 722 of the Penal Code (offering to commit a lewd or indecent act). He was arrested in Pasadena, California, on January 21, 1953, on a charge of sex perversion. He pleaded guilty to propositioning two males to engage in an act of sodomy and admitted a previous arrest on the same charge in New York City. He received a sentence of sixty days on this charge.

In addition to the above, Rustin has also been arrested on a number of occasions in connection with his activities of an agitational nature concerned with civil rights and pacifist programs.

(100-158790)

In July, 1969, a confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past advised that Stanley Levison, described as a secret member of the Communist Party as of July, 1963, had indicated to Mrs. Coretta King, the widow of Martin Luther King, Jr., that the "Research Committee" of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), consisted of Levison and three other individuals, including Bayard Rustin. On January 3, 1969, a confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past advised that Dr. Courtney Smith, President, Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, had recently received a list of demands from [redacted] a Negro senior student at this College who claimed to be the leader of other Negro students. These demands included a more liberal policy on the admission of black students to this College and the dismissal of the Dean of Admissions. Subsequently, on January 16, 1969, the "Evening Star," Washington, D. C., in an article entitled "Swarthmore Head Dies In His Office," reported that Dr. Smith had died of a heart attack on that date in his office as black students continued their occupation of the Admissions Office for the eighth day.

Bayard Rustin sent telegrams to several of the college administrators in support of [redacted]

Attached is a copy of an arrest record which may pertain to captioned individual.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover,
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation,
United States Department of Justice,
9th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I am writing to you at this time in quest of information about the political philosophy of a Mr. Bayard Rustin. It is my recollection that the aforementioned Mr. Rustin (in a matter of public record) has had leaning^s to if not outright affiliation with the American Communist party.

Recently, Mr. Rustin, I believe, has become a member of the board of trustees of the University of Notre Dame, at South Bend, Indiana. If it is true that he is inclined towards a Communist philosophy, then such an appointment to the governing board of a Catholic university is rather incredible.

Hence, I would be greatly ~~indebted~~ indebted to you if you could furnish me with any source testimony on this matter or advise me of any document ation on this subject. I assure you that it is only for my own certitude that I seek this information.

In conclusion I wish to pass along my congratulations to you on passing another anniversary milestone as director of the F.B.I., which I believe took place earlier this month. May the good Lord grant you continued good health and strength to remain at your post for many years to come!

Sincerely yours,

Dear Senator:

I've been trying for some time to get the F.B.I. record on one Bayard Rustin, black male, age unknown, I thought that it would be a simple matter, and tried to get it through the Police Department of the city of Prichard. However, the Chief there tells me that the local F.B.I. people informed him that all that they have is a list of information sent in by informers, which of course I have not the slightest interest in. Incidentally, the Police Chief there in Prichard tells me that the local F.B.I. stated to him that the present whereabouts of Rustin is unknown. I was under the impression that he was employed by the Federal Government in some capacity, for what reason, or in what capacity I don't have the slightest idea.

I am of the definite impression that Rustin was convicted of sodomy or child molestation in Pennsylvania some few years ago, and this surely must show on his record. I do know that he was tied up with Martin Luther King in the Montgomery affair, and also I think was one of those who helped co-ordinate the "march on Washington". I'm not interested in the latter matters, but I do want to know whether or not he has a criminal record, and wonder if you can call or somehow find out whether the record of this particular individual is unavailable to the public, or just what goes. I realize that the present Administration probably thinks that he can get some black votes for them. Actually, I don't think that anybody can, and especially Rustin. But again, I'm not interested in what this Administration thinks. I simply want to find out if I can get a copy of the F.B.I. record of Bayard Rustin.

Since your good help in getting the G.S.A. number for Forrest Athletic Company, we have done quite a bit of spade work, and are just now getting ready to contact all of the various military bases all over the world. Actually, we have not received any orders, but had hardly expected to since the only notice that the various agencies have is the inclusion of the item in the G.S.A. catalog. Anyhow, we do greatly appreciate your help, and maybe someday we can get out from under this burden. Please give my best regards to Maryon, and keep up the good work.

Sincerely yours

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I have received your communication of May 20th, with the enclosure I requested concerning Bayard Rustin. I am very grateful to you for this information, for it certainly substantiates the fact that he unfit to be on the board of trustees of an institution of higher learning. It would appear that many of our college presidents would do much better if they catered less to the 'left' side and directed their attention and energies toward truth and patriotism!

Thank you again, and may the good Lord watch over you.

Dear Mr. Rustin:

This is in reply to your letter of November 20, 1975, which makes request for records identifiable with you under the Freedom of Information Act. Your letter was addressed to both the Washington D.C. and New York Offices of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI).

In the event you are not aware, the Privacy Act of 1974, Title 5, United States Code, Section 552a, became effective on September 27, 1975. Pursuant to a ruling by the United States Department of Justice, the Privacy Act is now the primary method by which the Federal Bureau of Investigation is processing requests from individuals, seeking access to United States Government records identifiable with the requester. I believe this statute would apply to your request.

On Wednesday, August 27, 1975, regulations under the Privacy Act applying to requests for access to the Federal Bureau of Investigation Central Records System were published in the Federal Register, at page 38769. For your information, I am quoting these regulations, as follows:

"Record Access Procedures: A request for access to a record from the system shall be made in writing with the envelope and the letter clearly marked 'Privacy Access Request'. Include in the request your full name, complete address, date of birth, place of birth, notarized signature, and other identifying data you may wish to furnish to assist in making a proper search of our records. Also include the general subject matter of the document or its file number. The requester will also provide a return address for transmitting the information. Access requests will be directed to the Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington D.C. 20535."

BAYARD RUSTIN
Born: March 17, 1910
West Chester, Pennsylvania

In response to your name check request, there is attached one copy each of two FBI memoranda regarding Bayard Rustin, born March 17, 1910, or March 17, 1912, at West Chester, Pennsylvania, which may relate to the subject of your request.

The Young Communist League (YCL) reportedly was organized and maintained under strict Communist Party (CP) control and had direct connections with the CP. The YCL was dissolved in 1943 and succeeded by the American Youth for Democracy in 1944. The central files of this Bureau contain no information indicating that Rustin was ever affiliated with the American Youth for Democracy.

The American Student Union (ASU) was founded in 1935 as the result of a merger of the National Student League and the Student League for Industrial Democracy. The purpose of the ASU was to unite students, regardless of political parties or religious faith, in defense of their lives and liberties. It was formed to offer an instrument through which they may, together, achieve a better, more secure and fruitful life. The ASU became defunct in the 1940's. Reportedly, this organization received support from the Communist Party and the Young Communist League.

The Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) was founded in March, 1957, by the late Martin Luther King, Jr., who was its President until his death in April, 1968. The SCLC is a non-profit organization incorporated in Georgia in 1959, with its national office located in Atlanta, Georgia. The SCLC is a nonsectarian organization engaged in civic, religious, economic, political, and cultural matters. Its basic aim is to achieve full citizenship, equality, and integration of the Negro into all aspects of American life through direct nonviolent action.

Attached, also, is a characterization of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA) and an FBI summary of the War Resisters League (WRL).
